Possible version

Hi! David,

I'm glad to hear from you. The best time to come to Beijing is during the spring. The weather is not too hot or too cold, so it is the perfect time of the year to be outside. During the spring in Beijing everything seems fresh and new.

I advise you to visit the Summer Palace, the Great Wall, and the Temple of Heaven. The Great Wall is one of the wonders of the world and it is an amazing place to visit. The summer Palace and The Temple of Heaven are beautiful too. There are royal buildings, fantastic artwork, and scenic views for people to enjoy.

Before you come to Beijing, you should know that Beijing is a very crowded and big city. So it is necessary for you to travel with a map and you must be patient about waiting in line or large crowds.

I hope you will have a nice trip.

Yours,

Li Ming

Text 1

M: Can I borrow your dictionary, Sue?

W: Sure, here you are. Text 2

W: How do you come to school, Mike?

M: I usually ride my bike.

Text 3

M: What animal is most popular at the zoo?

W: Pandas. They are the symbol of China.

Text 4

M: What do you often do at the weekend?

W: I often go for a picnic with my family.

Text 5

M: How nice these apples are! Those vegetables are fresh, too!

W: Dad, I want some candies.

M: Get some from the shelf.

W: OK, that's enough.

M: Good! Now let's go to pay for them.

Text 6

W: Where have you been, Tim?

M: I've just been to the airport to see my sister off.

W: Where has she gone?

M: She's gone to England. She's going to study medicine in a university there.

W: Will it be difficult for her?

M: Yes, but she enjoys studying.

Text 7

M: May I help you, Madam?

W: I'd like to buy a skirt to match this sweater.

M: What about this one? It looks smart.

W: I'd rather have something a bit softer.

M: Well ... What about this then? It's really good, made of silk.

W: Yes, this one feels much softer. Can I try it on?

M: Certainly.

Text 8

M: Mrs. Black? I've been trying to find out when we can have the lunch party with the Chinese students. Could you take a look at these dates?

W: Sure. The fifteenth is out. I'll be at a meeting the whole day. The fourteenth or the sixteenth is fine.

M: Well, why don't we make it the sixteenth? It is the last day of the camp.

W: Good idea. That way, everybody can just go home afterwards.

M: OK, I'll make the invitations.

W: I've got to run. I've got a lesson with the Chinese students in five minutes.

Text 9

Animals travelling from one country to another have to follow laws, just as people do. They don't have to hold a passport, but they have to obey other rules. Most countries have laws about animals coming into their country. The laws were made to stop the spread of disease that animals may have.

Animals that travel include cats and dogs going with their owners on trip, animals going to zoos, and birds and fish on their way to pet shops.

Some animal can't go into a country unless their owners can prove that they don't carry disease. Others must be checked carefully by animal doctors.

Some animals must spend a month or more in a special place in the country where they go before they can enter in. These animals are kept away from other animals until it is certain that they don't have a disease. These are many different laws in each country. Anyone who wants to take a pet to another country should check with the government first. Laws are made to protect both people and animals.

Text 10

M: Hello, Cambridgr Language College.

W: Oh ... yes. Hello. I'd like to take one of your evening classes. M: Oh, yes. Which class are you interested in?

W: English ... it's Course 139.

M: I see... Course 139 is for new students. Is that the course you want?

W: Yes, it is.

M: OK. Now, I need to take some personal details first. Your name, please?

W: Silva.

M: Silva's your family name, isn't it?

W: Yes.

M: Can you spell that for me?

W: Yes. S-I-L-V-A.

M: Thank you. And your first name?

W: Maria.

M: ...Maria. Thank you. Oh, where are you from?

W: I'm from France. I'm a student at university in Paris. I'm here for the summer.

M: I see. So you speak French and ... any other languages?

W: No, just French ... and a little English !

M: And you're a student ... And your date of birth?

W: My date ... Oh! The eleventh of October 1983.

M: Eleventh of October ...1983. Where are you staying in Cambridge?

W: Sorry?

M: What's your address here? W: Oh. It's 24 Cherry Road.

M: OK. Now then Maria, do you have a telephone number?

W: Yes. It's 742980.

M: 742980. That's fine. The next English course for new students starts on Monday at seven pm.
