I saw an accident on my way to the college three days ago.

I was waiting for the bus at the bus stop. When the bus came, I got on the bus and sat on the window side. The bus started to move. About five minutes later, the bus stopped to wait for the signal(信号灯). I looked outside and saw an old man crossing the road. There were not many people on the road. A boy was riding a motorbike very fast from my side. It seemed that he did not see the signal. When the boy took notice of the old man, he tried to slow down his motorbike but there was no time. He collided with the old man very badly. The old man was thrown far away. The boy also fell down. His head hit the road but it was saved because of his helmet(头盔). Both of them lay in the pool of blood. Many people gathered(聚集) around them and gave their ideas. I got afraid because I saw the whole accident. Then a woman stopped and called the ambulance(救护车). It came quickly and rushed them to hospital.

The next day I read the newspaper. The old man died in the ambulance but the boy was saved in time. This was the most terrible accident I ever saw in my life.

C. What to Do When an Accident Happens      D. How to Save People

C.

A father and his daughter took some photos at the same place every year. It has lasted for 37 years. Why? Hua Yunqing can still remember the day that he took the first photo with his daughter, Hua Hua, in August of 1980. He was 26 years old and Hua Hua was just a one-year-old child at that time. They went to Taiying Lake in Jiangsu province. Hua Yunqing, interested in the beauty of the Jinshan Pagoda(宝塔), asked his wife to take a picture of him and his daughter.

In the summer of 1981, Hua Yunqing took his family to Taiying

Lake for a swim. At that time he remembered that he'd been there almost at the same time the year before. So he took photos with his daughter again in front of the pagoda. They took a photo at the same place, and the tradition went on from then on.

In 2008, Hua Hua went abroad and couldn't come back. So her father went alone to Taiying Lake and took photos. Hua Hua took some photos and sent them back. Her father made them together on the computer.

These photos won the hearts of web users after they put them online.

- ( ) 49. How old is Hua Yunqing now?
A. 24. B. 26. C. 35. D. 63.
- ( ) 50. When was Hua Hua born?

- ( ) 54. Why do many women seem to be able to deal with stress better than men are?
A. Because women often work outside.
B. Because women are stronger than men.
C. Because women like eating more delicious foods.
D. Because women usually have stronger social support systems.
- ( ) 55. Which of the following is not helpful to stress?
A. Deep breath. B. Doing sports.
C. Playing day and night. D. Getting enough rest.
- ( ) 56. What can we learn from the passage?
A. Stress can help people think clearly.
B. Everyday situations can't cause stress.
C. Stress keeps our bodies and minds weak.
D. Men and women deal with stress differently.

第二节 还原句子（共4小题，每小题2分，满分8分）

阅读下面短文，从短文后所给的四个选项中选出能填入空白处的最佳选项。

Do you like riding bikes? Have you heard about bike sharing? These days, bike sharing becomes more and more popular in many cities in China. In Yibin, you can see these bikes in many places, too. 57 These bikes are from some different companies(公司). Ofo and Mobike are two of them. 58 So they have come up with many ideas to encourage people to use their bikes. 59 Some lucky people even can get money by riding the bikes. The bikes bring much happiness to our life. However, there are also some problems. Some people don't park the bikes in the right places or use them in the right ways. 60 That's too bad.

All in all, bike sharing makes our life much easier. I think we should do something we can do to stop the bad things. To make our life better, let's go!

- A. They both want to get more users.
B. For example, they let people ride their bikes for free.
C. Some take the bikes home as their own or break them.
D. People like to ride them to schools, workplaces or other places.
