A

China is a great country with the largest population in the world. In order to solve the population problem, our government carried out one - child policy (政策) before. When it is carried out for some time, many people not only see its advantages but also disadvantages.

From 2016, two - child policy is put into effect. In my opinion, two - child policy is good. First of all, two - child policy is the gift for some only child. For some families, maybe the parents are only child and they also can have only child. Besides the loneliness of their child, when their child grows up and they grow older, their child marry an only child girl, the burden (负担) on their child and his wife is too heavy. Their child and his wife have to take care of two couples. Usually, a young couple looking after an old couple is a little difficult. But if their parents have two children, they can share the burden of taking care of their parents. It would be much better. Secondly, two - child policy can guarantee (保证) the number of Chinese population.

All in all, one - child policy has been out of date. And two - child policy is needed and necessary. It can solve the problems of nowadays (现在) and the future.

1. Which country has the largest population in the world?

- A. America. B. Britain. C. China.

2. The underlined phrase "carried out" in Paragraph 1 means "_____ " in Chinese.

- A. 携带 B. 禁止 C. 实行

3. Our government carried out one - child policy before in order to _____.

- A. solve the population problem
B. take care of two old couples
C. share the burden of taking care of their parents

4. According to the passage, which of the following is NOT true?

- A. One - child policy has its advantages and disadvantages.
B. It's easy for a young couple to look after an old couple.
C. China is a great country with the largest population in the world.

5. What's the main idea of this passage?

- A. Two - child policy is needed and necessary.
B. Our government carried out one - child policy.
C. Two - child policy is the gift for some only child.

"I will think of it." It is easy to say this, but do you know what great things have come from thinking?

Sir Isaac Newton was sitting in his garden when he saw an apple fall from a tree. He began to think and tried to find out why the apple fell. Then he discovered how the sun, moon, and stars are kept in their places.

A boy named James Watt sat quietly by the fire, watching the lid of the kettle move up and down. He wanted to find out why the steam in the kettle moved the lid. From that time he went on thinking and thinking. And when he became a man, he improved the steam engine (蒸汽机) so much that it could easily do the work of many horses.

James Ferguson was a poor boy. Once, seeing the inside of a watch, he wondered. "Why should I not make a watch?" But how could he get the materials to make the mainspring (钟表的主发条)? He soon found he could make it with whalebone (鲸骨). He then made a wooden clock which kept good time. His motto (座右铭) was "I will think of it." And he made his thoughts useful to himself and the world.

Boys and girls, when you have a difficult lesson to learn, don't lose heart, and don't ask someone for help before helping yourselves. Think, and by thinking you will learn how to think to some purpose.

6. From the passage, we know that some great things come from _____.

One day, I ran away from home and stayed away for many hours. When I returned home at night, I saw all the pain, anger and disappointment on my mother's face. ① _____. We agreed to have breakfast together the next morning. It was a turning point in both of our lives and our relationship.

We decided to go to a restaurant. On our way to the table I noticed my mother had two notebooks. I asked her what they were for. She explained to me that sometimes it was easier to write down our feelings rather than talk about them. We would write down our feelings in the form of a letter. It could be as long or as short as we wanted.

Our first topic was "Why I'm so angry?" I wrote a half page, and my mom filled up nearly three pages. I watched tears run down her face as she wrote. I never realized anyone could hide so much anger. After we finished writing, we exchanged our notebooks. As soon as I started reading my mother's words, I began to cry and so did she. When we finished reading, we discussed our feelings. ② _____. Our talk helped me realize so many things I had never thought of before, not only about my mother but also about other people.

My mother and I continue to use our notebooks as a way of communicating our anger and worries, and our happiness as well. We know that no matter how we feel about each other, our notebooks are a safe place to express our feelings. We have come to an agreement that at the end of each letter we write, "I love you."

With the development of the Internet and the popularization of computers, shopping on the Internet has become a common place in our life. Here customers can buy almost everything they need.

Shopping on the Internet has a lot of advantages, of which the most important is perhaps its convenience. People don't have to waste a lot of their energy and time to go from one shop to another to choose the goods (商品) they like. This is especially desirable to the old, the sick and the busy people who cannot go to the shops in person. The goods come in all shapes, sizes and colors on the Internet. The goods they order will be delivered to them quickly.

However, shopping on the Internet also has its disadvantages. The first disadvantage is that the customers can't see the goods or try them on personally. Sometimes, the real goods may not be the same as what they have seen on the computer. The second disadvantage is that some shops on the Internet are not registered (注册的). They will never deliver anything to you after they get the money from you. Once cheated, you will find that you have nowhere to go to complain.

21. What can customers buy on the Internet?

22. Why is shopping on the Internet convenient?

23. What do you think of the goods on the Internet?

24. Are the real goods always the same as what we seen on the computer?

25. What might the shop that are not registered on the Internet do?

They just enjoyed doing it. The girl didn't realize that people 37 (hurt) her. She couldn't even tell the teacher. The situation lasted for a long time.

Bullying at school is getting worse, so, many people 38 (try) to start anti-bullying (反欺凌) programs. Students in many schools have already taken actions. They 39 (create) anti-bullying clubs. Many students have joined the clubs. They work with teachers to show students how to stop bullying. Some other programs have proved to be successful, too.

In Michigan, some students tried to stop bullying with friendship. They 40 (make) DVDs. They gave the DVDs to students in their school 41 (teach) them how to be good friends. This idea worked, too. After that, there was less bullying at their school.

School programs like these have helped bullies learn to behave properly and they can also help prevent school bullying. I think it will come to a stop if everyone does something.
