 are burning him with red-hot irons (烙铁). It's terrible!"

"Rabies (狂犬病), Louis. Burning the bites is the only 37 of stopping Henry from catching the disease."

Henry did get rabies and died, in great 38, some days later. Louis Pasteur never 39. "One day," he thought, "I must do something to help people like Henry."

Sixteen years later Pasteur became a Doctor of 40. And he began his work in this special field. Pasteur achieved great success in his life. 41 the years of research he lost the use of his left arm and leg, yet he never lost heart. He worked on and on, as hard as ever, 42 he had a strong will to find a way for curing rabies.

After many dangerous experiments on mad dogs, he 43 found the answer. Just then a boy who had been badly bitten by a mad dog arrived at his lab.
 A few days after Pasteur's treatment, the boy got 44. He did not catch rabies.

The discovery gave new hope to people in many countries. People sent money to help build the Pasteur Institute (学院) in Paris. Today it is one of the world's most famous 45 for the research.

四、阅读理解 (本大题共 15 小题, 每小题 2 分, 共 30 分)

阅读下面的材料, 从每小题所给的 A、B、C、D 四个选项中选出最佳选项。

A

There is always a headmaster's mail box in the middle school. Have you ever written to your headmaster? Here are some letters written by four students.

Liu Xuexing

I will give advice on school uniform. In our school, we students have to wear uniform every day. But the dark blue sports clothes are really out of style. They don't match our young and lively spirit. We can add some red and orange colours and make a new type of uniform. Could you please think about it?

Liu Ziwen

I have two suggestions. First of all, I think we should have more hobby classes in science, such as model plane making class and computer programming class. It is really boring to study basic subjects all the time. And secondly, I hope we can have more PE lessons or more time for physical exercise. Lots of students now don't have a strong body.

Zhang Zihua

I'd like to say thank you. About one week ago, I hurt my left arm during a basketball game. You came to me after you knew about that and you took care of me until my parents came. I really want to thank you for that.

Wang Wenzhi

I want to talk about the possibility of personal classes. Now many middle schools are trying the "personal class" system. Students don't have regular (惯常的) classes. They can choose lessons they want to take. I think it is more helpful. And it is also good for exercise. We don't have to stay in one classroom all the time.

46. What does Liu Xuexing think of his school uniform?
- A. Wonderful.                      B. Not bad.
- C. Better than before.              D. Need to be changed.
47. Liu Ziwen writes to his headmaster partly because _____.
- A. he learns well at school
- B. he is good at making model planes
- C. he thinks many students aren't healthy enough
- D. he finds there aren't hobby classes in his school
48. From Zhang Zihua's letter, we can know the headmaster is _____.
- A. caring                      B. patient                      C. active                      D. strict

49. Wang Wenzhi expects students can try the "personal class" system to _____.
 A. get high marks B. have classes they prefer
 C. learn a lot more D. meet new friends and teachers
50. How many students give advice on school subjects?
 A. One. B. Two. C. Three. D. Four.

B

Many years ago, when I was driving to my parents' home in Missouri for Christmas, I found black smoke pouring from the back of my car. I stopped and didn't know what to do.

A car stopped behind me. A couple came out. They said they would take me to my parents' home. We talked happily on the way, and when I finally arrived and got out of the car, the husband gave me his business card.

I wrote him and his wife a thank-you note for helping me. Soon after, I received a Christmas present from them. A note in it said that helping me had made their holidays more meaningful.

Years later, I drove to a meeting in a nearby town one morning. In the late afternoon, I returned to my car and found that the battery(电池) was dead. Then I noticed Friendly Ford—a shop selling cars—was just a hundred metres away. I walked over and found two salesmen waiting beside the door.

"Just how friendly is Friendly Ford?" I asked and explained my trouble. They quickly drove a pickup truck to my car and started it. They would accept no payment. When I got home, I wrote them a note to say thanks. I received a letter back from one of the salesmen. "No one had ever taken the time to write to him and say thank you, and it meant a lot," he said.

"Thank you"—two powerful words. They are easy to say and mean so much.

51. What happened when the writer drove to his parents' home?
 A. He lost his way. B. His car broke down.
 C. His car ran out of battery. D. He got hurt in an accident.
52. How did the writer finally get to his parents' home?
 A. On foot. B. By train. C. By bike. D. By car.
53. What does the underlined sentence "Just how friendly is Friendly Ford?" in Paragraph 5 mean?
 A. What can I do for you? B. Can I explain my problem?
 C. Would you please help me? D. Do you have time to drive me home?
54. What did the writer do to the salesmen for helping him?
 A. He bought a car from them. B. He gave them some money.
 C. He sent each of them a present. D. He wrote them a thank-you note.
55. What is the best title for the passage?
 A. An unforgettable Christmas holiday. B. The power of thank-you notes.
 C. Two friendly salesmen. D. Common car problems.

When we exercise hard, we burn fat (脂肪). But have you ever wondered where exactly the fat goes?

Some doctors think that fat is changed into heat and given off in the air. Others think the body burns it. Some even joke that someone comes and takes it. That's why you always weigh less in the morning.

Now a new study from Australia solves the mystery (神秘的事).

"The correct answer is that most of the fat is breathed out as  $\text{CO}_2$ . It goes into the air," says the study.

Scientists followed the atoms (原子) in 10 kilograms of fat as they are lost. They found that 8.4 of those kilograms are breathed out as  $\text{CO}_2$  through the lungs (肺). The other weight, 1.6 kilograms, becomes water and leaves the body.

"None of this is easy to understand because we can't see the  $\text{CO}_2$  we breathe out," said the study's lead expert.

Does that mean you can lose more weight by breathing more? It is not as easy as you think. Breathing more than the body's metabolic rate (新陈代谢速度) can make you uncomfortable. You may feel dizzy (眩晕的) and become unable to see, move or feel, according to the study.

So how can people lose weight healthily? The key is to eat less and move more. You may have heard this many times. During a day, a 70kg-person breathes out about 200g of  $\text{CO}_2$ . So if the same person wants to lose weight, he or she can do some light exercise, for example, walking fast. This can help lose 240g of  $\text{CO}_2$ .

56. Where is the new study from?

- A. Japan.      B. Australia.      C. Canada.      D. America.

57. According to the new study, where does our fat go when we exercise a lot?

- A. The body burns it.
B. Someone comes and takes it.
C. It is changed into heat and given off in the air.
D. Most of it is breathed out as  $\text{CO}_2$ .

58. What will happen to people if they breathe more than the body's metabolic rate?

- A. They will lose weight healthily.      B. They will feel comfortable.
C. They may become unable to move.      D. They may become healthier.

59. Which of the following is the best way to lose weight?

- A. Sitting still and breathing more.
B. Sleeping a lot and breathing more.
C. Eating less and exercising more.
D. Eating more and doing some light exercise.

60. The passage mainly tells us _____.

- A. where fat goes when we exercise      B. why we can lose weight healthily
C. how we should do some exercise      D. what we should do to burn fat
