If we do not protect the earth from now on, we'll only live under the ground, so we must do things to save the earth. But people are doing harmful things to the Earth. People cut down trees to get wood. They kill many animals to make money. And many factories pollute the air. Also, some people have bad habits. They throw away rubbish everywhere.

In my opinion, we should try our best to protect the Earth and there are many things we can do. First, we mustn't pollute the water. Then we should put the rubbish into the dustbin to make our street cleaner. And we had better plant more trees to improve the air.
