Ever since I was a child, my mouth has caused me trouble. I'm not a bad person; I have a 31 time learning when to stop saying bad things to others.

My mom has told me again and again, "Robert, your constant (不断的) bad words are hurting me. If you 32 to be this rude, you will get into big trouble."

It's been a problem at school several times too when teachers have told me something I didn't want to hear. I used to feel it was my 33 to stand up for myself.

One day in an English class I was working on my homework when I heard a classmate 34 behind me. It was Nathaniel, who liked doing that as usual.

I said ever so 35, "Nathaniel, would you be quiet?"

But Nathaniel kept saying something to himself. So I quickly 36, "Nathaniel, shut up!"

For the next five minutes, we threw hurtful words back and forth at each other.

"At least I don't have an ugly lazy eye like you!" I cried out.

I knew this would make him 37 and it would hurt his feelings and shut him up. What I said filled him with anger. He tried to 38 over my seat and catch me as he screamed, "That's it! That's it!"

39 at his reaction (反应), I sat back in my seat. I had never seen Nathaniel act like this before. Later on, we were taken to the teacher's office. There, Mr Black, our English teacher, told us to 40 the matter. It wasn't until then that I finally found that 41 I hurt someone physically, the wounds finally heal (愈合). But when I hurt someone with my 42, sometimes the pain never goes away.

At the end of the discussion I said 43 to Nathaniel.

When I went back to my room, I began to 44 how often what I said hurt others. But I believe that as I keep reflecting on (反省) myself, I will learn when to keep my 45 closed.

三、阅读理解(共 12 题,每小题 1.5 分,满分 18 分)

阅读下列短文,然后根据其内容从 A、B、C、D 中选出最佳选项。

A

In the United States, people throw away 500 million plastic straws (吸管) every day. These are enough to circle the Earth twice! Unluckily, they are almost never recycled, because they are too small.

Now, plastic straws are the aim of growing environmental movements. Among them is Be Straw Free. Milo Cress, 23, started the movement at the age of 16. "I noticed that whenever I ordered a drink at a restaurant, it would come with a straw," said the American teenager. "This seemed like a huge waste."

Cress started by asking restaurants in his home city to stop providing straws if customers don't ask for one. Many agreed. Over the years, restaurants in the United States joined the movement. On average, they now use 50-80 percent fewer plastic straws than they used to.

In other countries, there are similar movements. In the United Kingdom, many restaurants now use paper straws instead of plastic ones. The British government is planning to ban all plastic waste by 2042.

Here in China, many restaurants still use plastic straws. Will you do something to change the situation?

46. Why do people almost never recycle plastic straws?

- A. Because there are few plastic straws.
- B. Because the plastic straws are very small.
- C. Because the plastic straws are very cheap.
- D. Because people can make the plastic straws quite easily.

47. What has Cress done according to the text?

- A. He has asked people to stop asking for plastic straws at restaurants.
- B. He has asked restaurants to replace plastic straws with paper ones.
- C. He has asked restaurants not to offer straws without customers' asking for.
- D. He has introduced his Be Straw Free movement to the United Kingdom.

48. The meaning of the underlined word "ban" is .

- A. 禁止
- B. 要求
- C. 收购
- D. 浪费

49. At the end of the text, the writer expects readers to .

- A. make friends with Milo Cress
- B. invite other people to read this passage
- C. do something similar to what Cress has done
- D. ask the Chinese people to ban all plastic waste
