三、阅读理解 (本题共 20 分, 每小题 1 分)

A

One day when Jack was walking in the park, he saw a woman, who lived a few miles away, sitting on a bench with a dog beside her. The dog was looking up at the woman.

Jack walked up to the woman and said, "Hello, Sue, how are you? May I sit and talk with you for a while?" "Of course, please sit down," Sue said. Jack sat down next to Sue on the bench, and they talked quietly together. The dog continued to look up at Sue, as if waiting to be fed.

"That's a nice dog, isn't he?" Jack said, pointing at the animal.

"Yes, he is. He's handsome. He's a bit of a mixture, but that's not a bad thing. He's strong and healthy."

"And hungry," Jack said. "He hasn't taken his eyes off you. He thinks you've got some food for him."

"That's true," Sue said. "But I haven't."

They both laughed and then Jack said, "Does your dog bite?"

"No," Sue said, "He's never bitten anyone. He's always gentle and friendly."

Once a small boy lived on a farm which seemed so far away from everywhere. He needed to get up before sunrise every morning to help his father on the farm. During sunrise he would take a break and climb up on the fence(篱笆) along the side of the farm. He could see a house with golden windows. "If they could afford golden windows, then there must be other nice things inside the house." He imagined how great it would be to live there. Then he promised himself, "Some day I will go there and see this wonderful place."

One morning, his father would go to the town and told him to stay at home for a rest. Knowing that this was his chance, he took a sandwich and headed across the field towards the house with the golden windows.

As the afternoon went on, he began to realize how wrong he was. The house was much farther than he had expected. As he went near the house, he saw no golden windows but instead a house in bad need of painting. A small girl very close to his age came out of the poor house and stood by the broken fence. He asked her if she had seen the house with the golden windows.

The girl said, "Sure, I know." and invited him to sit on the porch(门廊). As he sat there, he looked back from where he just came. There he saw the sunset(夕阳) turned the windows of his house to gold! Now he understood that everyone had his own house with golden windows.

- ( )41. The boy got up to help his father on a farm after sunrise every morning.
- ( )42. When seeing the house with golden windows, the boy wished he would see the wonderful place someday himself.
- ( )43. At last, the boy saw a house in bad need of painting after a long walk.
- ( )44. The boy walked a long distance to reach the house that he expected to see.
- ( )45. The story encourage us to run after our dream no matter what difficulties we will have.

D

Can you imagine that there will be several moons in the sky someday? The answer is "Yes." China's man-made moon is expected to be sent up into space in 2022, the Science and Technology Daily reported.

A man-made moon is a satellite carrying a huge space mirror, which can reflect the sun light to the Earth. According to the plan, China will set up the first satellite and then make it work by 2020. In total of three man-made moon will be launched in 2022. By then, the three huge mirrors will divide the 360-degree orbital plane (轨道平面), shining the same area for 24 hours all the time.

According the report, the reflected sun light can cover an area of 3600 square kilometers to 6400 square kilometers, at the same time , the illumination-intensity is expected to be eight times of the moon light. The moon orbits(运动轨迹) the Earth about 380,000 km from the Earth, while the man-made moon is expected to orbit within 500 km from the Earth. Some people worried about whether the man-made moonlight will affect the normal day-night cycle of animals and plants. "It is not necessary to worry about it" the expert said. "When a man-made moon is running, people can only see a bright star in the sky."

Man-made moon can do much benefit to us. It can provide us with bright light, which is just like the sun. The light from the man-made satellite can cover an area 50 square kilometers, which can save much electricity and a great deal of money every year.

Have you heard about "Survival (生存) Holidays"? "Survival Holidays" is for children to go into the lonely place for exciting activities. Now about 1,100 companies are allowed to take children into the great outdoors without their parents.

The reason why people like "Survival Holidays" is that children can feel close to nature. Many children in big cities spend all time watching TV and playing computer games. "Survival Holidays" gives them an important change.

Is "Survival Holidays" a wonderful idea? Maybe it is. Children need more free time to play. They need to be left on their own, without adults disturbing (打扰) them. Parents care too much about their children. They like to see the children being busy with activities that are controlled by adults, but children don't know what they should do when they are in danger. Even something like crossing a small river seems to be a hard challenge. Children are not comfortable with danger. Even small danger like getting their feet wet or falling down seems very terrible to them.

Many people think the survival activities are good for children. Even years later, they will still remember what they have learned. In these activities, some can learn to stay calm in different times, some can learn how to keep safe, others can learn how to work in a team. All these skills will help them a lot in their lives.

(C)

In the United States, each farm family lives on its own fields, and often can't see any neighbor. Instead of travelling from a village to the fields every morning, American farmers stay on their land both on weekdays and weekends. They travel to the nearest town on Saturdays for shopping or on Sundays for church. The children ride on buses to large schools which serve all of the farm families living in the area. In some areas, there are small schools serving a few families, and the children go to school on foot. Of course life keeps changing for everyone, including farmers. Today there are cars, good roads, radios, and television sets. And of course there are modern machines for farming. All of these have changed farm life. For many years, farmers had to deal with their own problems, instead of getting help from others. They learned to try new methods and to believe their own ideas rather than follow old ways.
