Most people celebrate their birthdays by holding parties and getting gifts. However, Sydney Coney, 10, chose to give up her birthday for a day of service. She turned into a cook to help the homeless people at the Firehouse Shelter(避难所). She called it a birthday gift to herself.

Sydney came up with the idea after listening to a story. It was about the spirit of giving. Soon after, she decided to cook for the homeless(无家可归的人) on her upcoming birthday. She even used her birthday money to pay for the food.

On her birthday, Sydney arrived early at the shelter to cook a hot meal for over 200 people with the help of her family and friends. They all wore T-shirts with the words "Sydney's Hands to Serve, and Heart to Love".

"It is hard to work in a homeless shelter," said Anne Rygiel, director of the Firehouse Shelter. "Seeing a kid like Sydney, however, let me know that everything will be OK. She gives me hope for our future."

"It makes me feel happy to bring a smile to someone's face. I don't think this will be the last time. It's now a birthday tradition for me. I will never stop helping others," Sydney said.

Sydney's act of kindness inspired others to help as well. Her family, neighbors and teachers gave away money, food, clothes and some other things.
