Good friends have common ideas and sometimes similar taste in music, clothes and Free time activities. However, the most important thing of friendship(友谊), according to some studies at North Westminster Community School is trust（信任）. Trust is what it is all about.

Ann	I'm 15 years old. My good friends are Sarah and Minnie. I met Sarah when I was five and Minnie when I was eight. Because Sarah 's father found a new job in New York last year, she moved there with her family. Although we can't study and play together every day, we talk online every Saturday. We share all things we experienced and care about each other's life.
Amanda	I met Susan when I was waiting outside her house on the day she moved next to my house. Last month, I broke my arm and had to stay in hospital. She came to hospital every day to help me with my study and tell me funny things in school. Because of her, I became well soon.
Jane	Rosie It's my best friend. We do everything together. We go to the school library every Monday, Wednesday and Tuesday afternoon. We talked about everything together. We don't know the true meaning of friendship.

36. The three students at North Westminster community school think_____it's the most important in friendship.

Many people like to drink soda pop(苏打汽水), but they may not know that soda pop has an interesting story.

The story began with mineral water (矿泉水). In many places, people thought washing with mineral water was good for their health. Some said drinking mineral water was also good for people. Some mineral water had bubbles (气泡) in it. So people learnt to make bubble water to put CO₂ into water to make the water bubbly. They called the bubbly water “soda water”.

Later, people put juice or some other things to make soda water taste good. Many drugstores(药房) or ice cream shop sold soda water. Now people can buy soda pop in almost every food store. Some people call it “pop”, some say “soda” and other people call it “soda pop”.

At first people made soda pop because they thought it was good for their health. But in fact, it's bad for us. For example, drinking too much soda pop make us fat. Well, maybe we should drink less this kind of good tasting water for our health.

40. Why did people in many places drink mineral water?
A. Because they thought it was good for their health.
B. Because they thought it was cleaner.
C. Because it tasted good.
D. Because it was cheap.
41. Where could people buy soda pop in the past?
A. In food stores.
B. In restaurants.
C. In ice cream shops.
D. In supermarkets.
42. Which of the following is true about soda pop?
A. It's bad for people's health.
B. It's only sold in drug store now.
C. It doesn't have any bubbles now.
D. It tastes worse than mineral water.
43. The passage mainly tells us that _____.
A. soda pop is an old drink.
B. soda pop has different names.
C. soda pop has an interesting story.
D. soda pop is popular with many people.

In the forest, everything was great and everyone was happy before Jemima came there.

Jemima was a very tall giraffe with a long neck(脖子). She was the noisiest and the most gossipy(爱说三道四的) animal in the forest.

She liked to watch everything and told everyone what was going on that made so many animals unhappy. They had a meeting and decided to teach her a lesson (给她一个教训).

At that time, Big Bongo, the monkey, decided to move to a new house. Jemima was so curious about the new house. One night she walked quietly to Big Bongo's bedroom window. The window was open and she put her head inside. She was just on time to see Big Bongo leaving the bedroom. So, Jemima put her head further in so that she could follow him to the next room. It was dark in the house and she couldn't see very well. But she followed Big Bongo into another room and then another...

At last Jemima couldn't follow Big Bongo anymore. Her neck wasn't long enough. Big

Bongo run around his house, and Jemima's neck was in a tangle(绕成一团).

Then all the other animals came to the house and told Jemima what they thought of her. Jemima's face turned red, she decided that she would not use her neck to poke(干涉) into the lives of others.

44. Many animals in the forest were unhappy with Jemima because _____.
A. She had a long neck. B. She was new to the forest.
C. She was noisy and gossipy. D. Should like to do everything.

Some Chinese parents only care about their children's grades. This made their children lose confidence(自信) little by little because of too much schoolwork. It's a problem. Parents should find out their children's interests and teach them some important skills (技能) they need. The skills make children confident, happy and clever.

Cooking, for example, is a good skill. Teaching a child to cook will help improve many of his other skills. Cooking needs patience and time. A good cook always tries to improve his cooking so he will learn to work hard and finish his job well. As a result, a well-cooked dinner will give him a lot of fun and confidence.

Give your child all the things like a broken radio or TV set to play with they will spend hours looking at them and trying to fix(修理) them. Your child might become an engineer when he grows up. This kind of activity is better than teaching a child to read a book. It teaches him to think and to use his mind. And that is more important.

How Chinese parents should educate their children
Problem .	Parents only care about their children's 48 _____. Children are losing confidence because of too much 49 _____.
Advice	Find out children's 50 _____ and teach them some important skills. * 51 _____. It can give them much fun and confidence. * Fixing old things it can teach children to think and to 52 _____.
