参考范文：

Dear classmates, now it's my pleasure to give you a speech.

First, we students should pay attention to the safety on the road so that there will be fewer traffic accidents. For example, we can't ride side by side when we are riding bikes on the road. It is also important for us to look left and right if we want to cross the road. What's more, we should always remember not to use the mobile phone while walking on the road because it is very dangerous.

Second, if there is an earthquake and you are inside, hide under a table and keep clear of fires. If you are outside, do not stand near street lights or under power lines.

In short, we should keep calm and be brave when there is an accident.

Thank you for your listening.
