M: That's great! Please go and ask your brother to do it!

W: No problem!

第三节：听短文

根据所听到的内容及要求完成表格，每空一词。听短文前，你将有 25 秒钟的时间阅读有关内容。（短文读三遍）

Tea is one kind of traditional drink in China, like coffee in Western countries. There are different kinds of tea. One of the most popular kinds is black tea. Most people in Europe like black tea. It is dark in color and it is strong in taste. Most of them drink it with milk and sugar. Green tea is also very popular. It is not as strong as black tea in taste. Many people in China and Japan like green tea very much.

Many Chinese drink tea every day. And they often make tea to serve their friends. It's easy to make tea. First put the tea leaves into the teapot and pour hot water into it. Then wait several minutes for the tea to be ready. Finally pour the tea into the teacup and enjoy it. To make good tea, we should use good tea leaves. The most popular tea leaves in China are Longjing, Tieguanyin and Maojian.

One possible version:

Dear Cathy,

I'm glad to receive your letter. Now I will tell you something about Chinese eating habits.

In China, the staples are rice and wheat and the dishes are placed on the table and everybody shares the food. We Chinese use chopsticks and bowls to eat with. When we have soup, we use spoons. We mustn't stick our chopsticks upright in the rice bowl. It's impolite to point at other people with them. When you have dinner in a Chinese home, the hosts may use their chopsticks to put food in your bowl. It is a sign of friendliness.

It's a good idea to do as other people do when you aren't sure.
Best wishes to you!

Yours,
Li Hua
