十、书面表达（共 15 分）

One possible version:

We have only one earth and it’s our home, so it’s our duty to take care of it. If we harm it, it’s unavoidable that we will have a terrible end. There is no doubt that protecting the environment is still worth people’s attention in the new century. As teenagers, we are supposed to play an active role in improving the environment.

Two years ago, my parents asked me to join a summer camp to improve my living ability. I spent my days doing different things there. One day, our leading teacher invited us to a park. I thought it would be a relaxing journey, but when we got there, I was disappointed about everything I saw: so many plastic bags and bottles. So we began to clean it and I was very happy for what I did although it was boring and tiring. At last, when the park was finally cleaned, I got a strong feeling of satisfaction. The experience made me know the importance of the environmental protection and it’s our responsibility to call on more people to take action. As a teenager, I can do some small things to protect our environment, such as taking the bus to school. At the same time I can save water while washing hands. I’m sure everybody is able to do something meaningful to make the world better.

Last Sunday, I went to a shopping mall to buy a T-shirt with my father. After that, we went to a new restaurant across from the street to eat dinner. During the dinner, a special “picture” drew my attention. A young mother carrying her baby daughter was sitting close to us. I saw her using the spoon with her mouth and then feeding the daughter. “Why did she use her mouth instead of her hands?” I thought. Then I asked my father to see that.

Maybe the mother heard me, and she began to tell us her daughter had a bad accident and lost both of her arms one year ago. After the accident, she decided to do nearly everything with her mouth, like using the spoon and chopsticks, writing and so on. She wanted to let her daughter know she could also do them with her mouth. After eating, the young mother stood up from the seat and then took out of the money with her mouth. Finally, she turned back and said, “I believe she’ll do everything best with her mouth.” “Yes, she will.” My father and I both said.

I moved to Spain in Europe a few months ago. Here I found some really interesting things. In China, people usually have lunch at around 12:00, and it is usually very important for Chinese people. But here in Spain people have lunch after 2 p.m. Lunch is always very simple. At night, people in Spain like to go to parties. They prefer to spend their time together. People here are very friendly to others even strangers, so it’s a nice place to live in. When you see a free table in a crowded restaurant, you’d better take it quickly, because people don’t stand in lines to wait for their turns.

And it’s necessary for you to learn to cook before going to Spain. The food here is really different. You would miss your home food when you are in Spain. But don’t be so nervous. Soon you will find life is really fun and interesting here.
