One possible version:

The most important thing in my life

In my opinion, the most important thing in my life is time. No matter how long one may live, his life has only a certain number of years. And once the time goes by, nobody can get in back. Even though he is the richest person in the world, he cannot afford to waste time, because it means that he is wasting his own life.

The only thing we can do is making full use of our time. If we can finish more work with less time, we will have more time than other people.
