Last year my parents and I lived in an old house in the forest for a long time. No other kids stayed there. I didn't even have the choice of playing with a brother or a sister. I didn't know why my parents lived in the old house. My aunt lived with us. She was a cook, but I thought the food she cooked was awful.

One day, when I was walking around the garden behind the house, I saw a wooden house that was abandoned. As I walked towards it, I heard a noise. Then I saw a man with a long beard standing at the door. I was surprised.

"Please don't tell them you saw me," he said. "They never use this place, and there's nowhere else for me to live." "Don't worry," I said. "I won't tell anyone. But do you have enough food to eat?" The old man shook his head.

In the evening, I went into the kitchen and got some food. I got out of the back door and gave the food to the old man. I never saw anything else as lovely as the smile of satisfaction on this old man's face when he ate the food. From then on, I enjoyed every minute of the rest of my stay.
