How often do you dream? Every night, once a week, or less than that? What do your dreams mean? We asked some students to tell us about their dreams.

"Last night in my dream, my phone was ringing," said Victor. "I looked in every room of the house for the phone, but I couldn't find it. It kept ringing until I woke up."

Dreams about phones could be about messages. Victor might have something important to think about, but has forgotten. The dream is trying to help him recall it.

"I often dream about walking by a river," said Daisy. "But when I look down at the water, it is usually dark and dirty. I cannot see the bottom of the river. I usually have this dream once a month."

When a person dreams about dirty water, he or she is probably confused (迷惑的) about something. Maybe Daisy is confused about some parts of her life. She does not know what to do. If she makes a decision, she will probably stop having this dream.

Many people believe that our minds use dreams to give us messages. If we listen to these messages, we can learn a lot.

46. In Victor's dream, his phone kept ringing and he

- A. called some students every night
- B. looked for it once a week
- C. forgotten something important
- D. could possibly not sleep well

47. What does the underlined word "recall" mean in Chinese?

- A. 回忆
- B. 描绘
- C. 叙述
- D. 幻想

48. How many students talk about their dreams in the text?

- A. Two.
- B. Three.
- C. Four.
- D. Five.

49. According to the text, the good way for us to stop dreaming is to

- A. look down at the dirty water
- B. see the bottom of the river
- C. make a decision
- D. take a message

B

COVID-19 has shut down (关闭) schools across California, US, since spring. Eighth-grade student Christine Chang liked to study at school better than in her living room. She wanted a change.

Chang thought about setting up a study group with her close friends to help with homework. She tried hard to find a place. She chose her family's 13-year-old garage (车库). Chang and her friends then painted the garage. They used old filing cabinets (文件柜) as desks.

In the "garage classroom", Chang has set rules for social distancing (社交距离), wearing masks (口罩) and doing chores. There are just five of them, but the girls have become best friends. They have made origami cranes (折纸鹤), gone on bike rides and dressed up together.

"When you have people around you, people who want to support you and lift you up, it's so important," Chang said. "That's what's important about the garage."

八年级英语试题 第 8 页 (共 10 页)

C

It was a beautiful summer morning. In the warm and bright sunlight, a bus was running along a back road in the south.

There was a thin old man sitting on one seat. He was wearing a black suit (西服). In his hands were fresh flowers – lovely white roses with blue forget-me-nots on them.

From time to time, the sun would shine on the flowers through the bus windows.

Beside the man was a young girl. Her eyes came back again and again to the old man's flowers.

The time came for the old man to get off the bus. As he stood up, he placed the flowers in the girl's lap (腿上).

"I can see you love these flowers," he said with a kind smile on his face. "And I think my wife would like for you to have them. I'll tell her I gave them to you. If she knows that, she will be happy."

The girl accepted the flowers thankfully. Then she watched the old man get off the bus and walk through the gate of a small cemetery (墓地).

54. Which of the following is the main idea of the text?

- A. Feeling of kindness is still alive.
- B. A bus is running in the south.
