When I was young, my family lived a hard life in the country. As you can imagine, many country roads were difficult to walk on. One evening after visiting some relatives (亲戚), it began to rain on our way back home. Dad carried me on his back.

Mom gave her coat to my brother. We walked together in the rain for more than an hour. I was fat at that time and Dad must be tired to hold me for such a long time. He almost fell down many times. I tried to get down and walk myself, but they didn't want me to do that. When we arrived home, the rain came through the leaky (裂缝的) roof and the water was everywhere. My parents put my brother and me on the bed, placing us on the dry place carefully. I fell asleep soon. When I opened my eyes, I found Dad and Mom sleeping in chairs. Both of them had a serious cold the next day. It happened more than twenty years ago. And now I am a mother, too. I can remember neither the beginning nor the end, but whenever I think of it, tears(眼泪) run down my face from my eyes because I fully understand what parents' love means.

根据短文内容判断正误, 正确的写(A),错误的写(B).

- () 36. When I was young, my family lived an easy life in the country.
 () 37. The writer's mother carried her and her brother wore her father's coat.

 () 39. The story happened on an early morning ten years ago.
 () 40. From the reading, we know that parents' love is the greatest in the world.

(C)

Lots of people love chocolate. Do you know how to make it? What does a chocolate factory look like? My class had a field (田野) trip to a chocolate factory in Toronto.

We visited an old building in ten groups. In the beginning, we put on some special clothes to make sure that we couldn't dirty the workplace. In the chocolate making place, the floor was filled with different kinds of machines. Each machine has a different job. There are only two people working on the floor, because machines do most of the work.

In the next room, we learned about the history of chocolate making. There was a picture of the factory 100 years ago. They had more than 1000 people working there. The factory is very different now.

Later, we saw how machines made chocolate. We got a cocoa bean (可可豆), some powdered (粉末的) chocolate and a final chocolate. I opened the cocoa bean and tasted it. It doesn't taste sweet at all, and it's like dark chocolate. The best cocoa beans come from Africa. Farmers dry them in the Sun. Next workers cook the beans at a high temperature. Machines took the shells (果壳) off the beans and made the beans into chocolate liquor which looks like water. Then, put chocolate liquor and sugar together to make dark chocolate.

This field trip taught me how important technology(科技) is and I also learnt a lot about chocolate.

(B)

In our life, we hardly express our thanks to people around us, especially our parents. Our parents have lived with us for many years. Our parents are proud of us if we improve a lot in subjects. They are the closest to us in this world. In fact, we usually say thanks to our parents on Thanksgiving Day. It is not enough. We should appreciate(感激) what they do for us at any time. Saying thanks is a good way to add to the world's happiness. It makes our world bright. Also, it makes the others' world bright. If you show your appreciation to the others, you will find the happiness. No one can imagine if we have no "thank you" in our dictionaries, what the world will be like. Now if you have learned something about giving thanks, what are you waiting for? Please give it now, and the world will be different!

(C)

Thomas Edison was a great scientist and inventor in America. He was once thought to be a boy who was not worth educating. In fact, he was a man full of imagination.

I admire Edison a lot because he made great contributions to the world. He had more than 1000 inventions. In his life time, he was always eager（渴望的） to know how things worked, which helped him to have the nickname(外号)“the Wizard of Melo Park”. He was also so hard-working that he worked day and night. And this explained why he had so many great inventions.

Probably I cannot be an Edison myself, but I can be a hardworking person. I learned from him how to succeed. No matter when or where you were born, what you are doing and how you do, it is the secret.
