One Possible Version:

I can do it

I wasn't good at running before and I was always nervous about the running test. When I became a junior high school student, I decided to improve it. I made a plan to run in the playground every morning. I ran slowly in the beginning, but I kept running. A few months later I could run much faster and I could pass the running test. I'm proud of myself. I'm sure I can do anything successfully if I work hard.
