Mr. Guo is a teacher from Xi'an. He asked his students to hand in their homework through a QR code(二维码). "We spent an hour or two in class learning how to generate(使产生)the codes, and in the end everything gets easier," said Guo. "When students finish the homework, they keep it on Wechat(微信). Then, each student makes his or her own QR code and gives it to me. So I can check their work everywhere using my computer or telephone."

The QR codes can be sent to Mr Guo by e-mail, QQ and We Chat. When Guo scans(扫描)his students' QR codes, their homework appears on his phone. He finds that their homework becomes more creative, with many pictures, music and even videos.

Guo's students like the new way and think it is interesting. "We are living in the information age. Many students like to work with computers, which makes learning more fun." said Tingting, a student of Guo's.

"The paper is not easy to keep, but the code is easy to keep and share," Guo said. "It is worth trying to use technology in education. Education itself is a kind of creation. I don't want my students to fall behind the times."

However, some parents are worried. They are afraid that their children will spend too much time on computers or phones and less time communicating with teachers. But in fact, it isn't necessary. Students still need to look up information in books and write it down when they do their homework. They only use the code when they hand in their work, which doesn't take them too much time. Also for teachers, it allows them to check the students' work at any time, And it's also an easy way to share homework with other students.

B. students don't have to do their homework any more
C. teachers needn't check the students' homework any more
D. Most of the parents worry about their children at this school

One morning, a blind boy sat on the steps of a building with a hat by his feet. He held a sign which said, "I am blind. Please help me."

There were only a few coins in the hat. A man was walking by. He took out a few coins from his pocket and dropped them into the hat. He then took the sign, turned it around, and wrote some words on it. He put the sign back so that everyone who walked by could see the new words.

Soon the hat began to fill up. A lot more people were giving money to the blind boy. That afternoon the man who had changed the sign came to see how things were. The boy recognized his footsteps and ask, "Are you the one who changed my sign in the morning? What did you write?"

The man said, "I only wrote the truth. I said what you said, but in a different way."

What he had written was, "Today is a beautiful day, but I can't see it."

Do you think the first sign and the second sign were saying the same thing?

Of course both signs told people the boy was blind. But the first sign simply told people to help by putting some money in the hat. The second sign told people that they were able to enjoy the beauty of the day, but the boy could not enjoy it because he was blind.

The first sign simply said the boy was blind, while the second sign told people they were so lucky that they were not blind.

There are at least two lessons we can learn from this simple story.

One is: Treasure(珍惜) what you have. Someone else has less. Try your best to help those who need your help.

The other is: Be creative. Think differently. There will be a better way.

- A. sitting together with him
- B. raising money for him
- C. writing the sign in a different way
- D. teaching him how to get more money

- B. 认出
- C. 懂得

- A. The hat began to fill up after the man wrote some words on the sign.
- B. The blind boy wanted to get enough money to go to school.
- C. The man took away all the few coins from the hat.
- D. Nobody wants to give any coins to the blind boy.

56. What's the best title(标题) of the story?

- A. Be kind to the blind.
- B. Be careful not to be blind.
- C. Don't always get, but offer.
- D. Be creative. There will be a better way.

D

On the morning of November 24, 2020, China made history by starting the world's first lunar return mission (月球返回任务) of the past 44 years. On that day, a Long March(长征) 5 rocket was sent into space from the Wenchang Space Launch Center in Hainan province. It's carrying the Chang'e 5 lunar probe (探测器). The mission lasted about 23 days, according to the China National Space Administration. The Chang'e 5 mission is unusual for several reasons.

A return mission

It's China's first sample (标本) return mission. This means that the Chang'e 5 probe can take back samples of the moon's soil (土壤) and rocks. The samples returned to Earth on December 17, 2020. The last lunar sample return mission was the former Soviet Union's(前苏联的) Luna 24 mission in 1976.

Larger samples

The Chang'e 5 mission brought back larger samples than missions in the past. The former Soviet Union brought back 330 grams of lunar soil samples, while Chang'e 5 brought back 2 kilograms of lunar samples. Chang'e 5 doesn't need a return cabin (舱), so it only needs a small amount(数量) of fuel (燃料). This lets it carry heavier samples.

A new landing place

Chang'e 5's lunar landing place is known as the Ocean of Storms. It's on the near side of the moon. No probes have visited this place before. It's geologically (地理上) younger than the sampling places from the US and former Soviet Union missions. The new samples will help us learn more about the moon's history.

57. What do we know about the Chang'e 5 mission?
 A. Chang'e 5 is a carrier(运载) rocket. B. Chang'e 5 was made in Hainan province.
 C. The mission started 44 years ago. D. The mission lasted over three weeks.
58. What did Chang'e 5 do on the moon?
 A. Found out if there is water on the moon.
 B. Carried soil samples from Earth to the moon.
 C. Took back soil and rock samples from the moon.
 D. Brought the former Soviet Union's Luna 24 probe back.
59. What makes the Chang'e 5 mission different from those in the past?
 A. It has a better return cabin. B. It can get more kinds of samples.
 C. It needs more fuel. D. It can take heavier samples back.
60. What do we know about the Ocean of Storms?
 A. It's most likely to have water.
 B. It is the youngest place that lunar probes have ever landed.
 C. It is the part of the moon which we can see from the earth.
 D. Many countries have landed their probes there since 1976.
