In 1987, a small company names Huawei was started in Shenzhen. After more than 30 years of development, the company has now beaten Apple and become the world's second-largest maker of smartphones (智能手机) behind Korea's Samsung. It has also become the world's largest supplier (供应商) of 5G.

But recently, Huawei faced some difficulties. The U. S. government ordered a ban (禁止) on its sales in America. American officials said Huawei gave information that it collected to the Chinese government. At the same time, the U. S. government planned to stop selling parts and services to Huawei, which was believed that Huawei's business would be hurt.

"We have never received such a request from the Chinese government and we have never tried to get into other systems to collect information." Ren Zhengfei, Huawei's founder and president said. "This ban from the U. S. would have little effect on our company. Huawei can deal with the problems." Ren Zhengfei added.

In an interview several years ago, Ren Zhengfei said, "I started Huawei with only £4,000 at the beginning, but now it has become a $100 billion company. The experience was not as romantic (浪漫的) as you imagine (想像)."

Facing the ban of the U. S., Huawei is growing. Huawei's smartphone sales around the world rose 50 percent compared to a year earlier in the first three months of 2019. At the same time, sales from both Samsung and Apple fell. So far, Huawei has grown into the world's largest telecommunications equipment (电信设备) supplier, selling in 170 countries! It may beat Samsung as the largest smartphone maker in the near future.

- () 51. Which company is the largest supplier of 5G in the world?
A. Samsung. B. Huawei. C. Apple. D. Nokia.
- () 52. Why did the U. S. order a ban on Huawei?
A. Huawei's sales in America were growing faster than Apple.
B. Huawei refused to supply services to the U. S. government.
C. They didn't want Apple to sell parts and services to Huawei.
D. They thought Huawei gave information that it collected to the Chinese government.
- () 53. From what Ren Zhengfei said, we can learn that Huawei _____.
A. can solve the problems they are facing
B. has go to the system of the U. S.
C. is deeply affected by the ban
D. is asked to supply information to China
- () 54. The underlined sentence in Paragraph 4 means _____.
A. it is romantic to start a company with £4,000
B. Huawei's developing experience was not easy
C. the romantic experience was a lot of wealth
D. people can know Huawei's developing experience easily
- () 55. What does the writer want to tell us in the last paragraph?
A. Huawei will grow slowly.
B. Huawei is full of hope.
C. Huawei's sales will be unsuccessful.
D. Huawei is the largest smartphone maker now.

II. 阅读短文, 根据短文内容, 从短文后的方框中所给的A、B、C、D、E、F、G七个选项中, 选出能填入空白处的最佳选项, 并在答题卡上将该项涂黑。每个选项只能选一次, 选项中两项为多余选项。(共5小题, 每小题2分)

D

People who remember other people's names enjoy a huge advantage. They may become the most popular person simply by recalling (记起) people's names and introducing them to each other.

56. Improving your memory, in any field, begins with one simple rule — paying attention. When you want to remember a new person's name, you have to listen when he says it. Forget for a moment what you want to say and simply listen.

57. Pretend you don't hear the name clearly and repeat it, "You said your name was John." Or you may say it out loudly when you shake hands. Try to use the name several times in conversation like "What do you think about this, John?" Or "See you, John."

58. John Smith. Imagine his name is written on his forehead. This may seem childish (孩子气的), but the more unusual the picture we see, the better we recall it.

59. Look for a special feature (特征) of the person, like a long face or big eyes. Next time you meet this familiar person, you will remember his name.

60. Imagine the person standing in front of you as a famous person with the same name and you will remember his name. And then you have it, the secret of your amazing memory.

- A. Write the name on their forehead
- B. Find the famous name in the person
- C. Find the picture in the person
- D. Write the name in the notebook
- E. Repeat it at once
- F. Listen carefully
- G. Read more books

56. _____ 57. _____ 58. _____ 59. _____ 60. _____

第五部分 情景交际(10分)

根据对话内容,从对话后的方框中所给的A、B、C、D、E五个选项中,选出能填入空白处的最佳选项,并在答题卡上将该项涂黑。每个选项只能选一次。(共5小题,每小题2分)
