A

The COVID-19(新冠肺炎)outbreak is changing people's traditional habits such as greetings and customs. People in different countries have had some new and creative choices. Knowing about this could help us understand their cultures and communicate with each other.

Newspapers have been filled with advice over how to replace(取代)handshaking and kissing on the cheek. Now looking into a person's eyes can satisfy as a greeting.

Martisor Festival marks the beginning of spring when the flowers and talismans(护身符) are handed out. But the government has told people to hand over the flowers and talismans without kissing.

People are called on to greet each other through the Internet and not to get together if possible. They can join their hands together in a sign of greetings instead of shaking hands when they meet.

A video has become popular. It shows that three friends are meeting. Two of them are wearing masks(口罩). Hands in their pockets, they tap their feet against each other as a greeting.

People are not advised to shake hands. And instead, they can give each other a pat on the back. "I won't say "Don't kiss," but you could be exercising a degree of care with whom you choose to kiss," said an officer.

51. How are Chinese people called on to greet each other?

- C. The students in Oxford can study in the school library.
- D. It's difficult for students to go from one group to another.

The 2020 US presidential election(总统大选) has drawn attention from people around the world. To allow voters(选民) to vote in person, poll(投票站) workers have had to work at different polling centers. In past elections most poll workers were elderly people. But since COVID-19 poses a greater danger to older people, more young people joined in this time. I was one of them.

I first found the chance to become a poll worker online. I signed up(注册) on a website called Poll Hero. A few days later, I registered(登记) at the High School Student Election Worker Program. After that, I took a three-hour online training course. It made clear the different roles volunteers have, as well as the different steps they need to follow and how to use tools like the electronic pollbook (电子选举人名册).

After the class, I also had to pass an exam with an 80-percent score or higher. After passing the online course, I took a two-hour in-person training session(培训课程). I worked with a real electronic pollbook to practice what I would be doing on Election Day. The teacher took us through many different scenarios(场景) where we role-played as different kinds of voters.

In all, I spent 37 hours helping people vote during this election. With my mask on the entire(全部的) time, I checked in voters and helped them use ballot-marking devices(设备) so they could cast(投) their vote. I also loved meeting other young volunteers who cared about helping our community.

61. The writer became a poll worker to _____.

- A. see the steps of the US election B. be the first to see the results
C. help because of a lack of volunteers D. stay away from COVID-19

62. To become a volunteer, the writer did the following in order: _____.

- ① take the in-person training session ② take online training courses
③ pass the exam ④ register with the program
A. ④①③② B. ④②③① C. ①②③④ D. ①③④②

63. What do we know about the writer's experience?

- A. He made a mistake in his work.
B. He only checked in voters.
C. He continued working for 37 straight hours.
D. He wore a mask while working.

64. The writer thinks his work is _____.

- A. difficult B. exciting C. helpful D. boring

65. What does the underlined word “elderly” mean?

- A. not yet old B. used as a polite word for “old”
C. physically or mentally ill D. having very little money

D

Hope Matters

Reyes Guana, 42, grew up in a poor Mexican family. He has seven brothers and sisters. His parents always had two jobs to make ends meet.

As a boy, Guana had a good relationship with the school cleaner. He called her “Nike” because she wore Nike shoes. The boy liked how Nike made everything clean. He told her he wanted to be a cleaner, too. “Well, it’s good if you want to be a cleaner,” Nike told little Guana. “But make sure you go to college.”

Guana also looked up to the principal (校长) of his school. The school leader told the boy that his job was to help students and teachers. “Wow, when I grow up, I want to do what you’re doing,” Guana told him. “Well, if you stick to your dream, you will,” the principal replied..

And Guana really got there. But it was quite a long journey for him. Twenty-three years ago, he followed in Nike’s footsteps and was cleaning schools. He worked at three schools to pay for his college education. He held that job for four years and then worked his way up to being a school safety monitor. After that, he worked as a teacher for a few years.

Now, as a principal, Guana never forgets where he came from. He helps students from poor families and shows respect (尊重) for every school staff member. He always invites everyone to school parties, including those who clean the floors and those who drive the school buses.

66. Guana hoped to be a cleaner because he _____.

- A. was good at cleaning B. admired the cleaner “Nike” a lot
C. needed to support his poor family
D. had to pay for his college education

67. Guana became a school safety monitor _____.

- A. when he was nineteen B. after he worked as a teacher
C. as soon as he got enough money D. before he was named principal

第五部分 写作 (共两节, 满分 30 分)

第一节 阅读表达 (共 5 小题, 每小题 2 分)

阅读下面短文, 并根据短文内容回答问题然后将答案写到答题卡相应的位置上。每题后都有相应的词数要求。

There are plenty of myths(神话) to explain how the world came to have a moon to bring light to the night time. But now there is a plan for a man-made moon. It will give us much light than the natural Moon.

China is preparing to put a man-made moon in the sky above Chengdu by the end of 2020. It will reflect sunlight back onto the Earth. If it succeeds, three more such objects will be sent out in 2022, according to Wu Chunfeng, a space scientist. Wu said it would be similar to how we get moonlight but he predicted(预言) that the man-made moon would have eight times the brightness of the real one. This is because the object will be about 500 kilometers above the Earth. That will make it much closer to us than the Moon, which is over 380 000 kilometers away, Wu added.

If the plan works, the man-made moon will save a lot of power. Scientists predicted that Chengdu could save around 1.2 billion yuan in electricity every year if a new moon lit up 50 square kilometers of the city. And in 2022, four man-made moons can take turns reflecting sunlight as they will not always be in the best position relative to the Sun. Together, they can give light to an area of up to 6 400 square kilometers on the Earth for 24 hours. That means its brightness will be seen in most areas in China, so reducing the need for streetlights.

九年级英语 听力材料

第一节

听下面 5 段对话，每段对话后有一个小题，从题中所给的 A、B、C、三幅图画中选出最佳选项，每段对话读两遍。

1. M: Hey, Jill! Are these the photos that you took in Paris?

W: No, these are the photos that I took in London! Look! This is Big Ben. This is the Tower of London. And this is Buckingham Palace.

2. W: How about going bike riding this Saturday, Mark?

M: Oh, no! Every Saturday we go bike riding. This Saturday I want to do something different. Let's go fishing with my grandpa.

3. W: Stop playing the guitar! I can't hear what your father is saying on the phone.

M: All right, Mom.

4. W: You have listened to your CD player for an hour. Stop it. Come and help me make dumplings.

M: OK, Mom. I'll do it at once.

5. W: Hey, hey, Jack! What did you do in your room? Look! Your books, socks and shoes are all on the floor.

M: I did nothing, Mom. Just now Tina and Paul fought in my room.

第二节

听第 6-10 段对话，回答第 6-10 小题。每段对话后有一个小题，从题中所给的 A、B、C 三个选项中选出最佳选项，。每段对话读两遍。

6. W: Excuse me. I wonder how I can get to No. 12 Middle School.

M: Walk along this street and turn left at the second crossing. The school is right in front of you.

W: Will it take me long to get there?

M: Well, it's about 20 minutes' walk.

7. W: Let's go to the park to skate, Jerry. There's thick ice on the lake.

M: You're kidding, May. It's warm in the room but it's very cold outside. And it's cloudy, too. It might snow.

W: What can we do to relax ourselves in the room?

M: Listen to music.

8. W: Have you been to Brown City recently?

M: Yes, last Sunday I visited it with my family. Brown City has changed a lot. People become rich. I see cars and high buildings everywhere.

W: Have you had fun there?

M: No, its environment is not good. Rubbish was everywhere. And its water was polluted. Oh, people should improve the environment.

9. M: Hey, Gina! Did you, Molly and Paul enjoy yourselves on the beach yesterday morning?

W: Sure. We had fun. It took us one and half an hour to collect litter. Then we spent an hour playing beach volleyball. We relaxed there half an hour and then we left.

M: Where did you go after leaving the beach?

W: A small amusement park nearby.

10. W: Have you been to Alaska in winter, Bob?

M: Yes, in winter Alaska is very cold. If you want to visit Alaska, you'd better go in summer, Molly. It's not very hot in Alaska in summer. Don't forget to bring warm clothes with you.

W: Thank you for your advice. I want to go there in spring. Is it OK?

M: Yeah! In spring, Alaska is very beautiful.

(M) Lily, ten years old, is a member of Green Group. One Sunday morning in April, she got up at 5 o'clock to make her street more beautiful. She wanted to give her neighbors a surprise.

Along the road, she put encouraging messages on post boxes, and put a "Good Morning" sign along the bridge so that people could see the sign.

Green Group is to encourage people. "I don't want to change the world, but I know that if you make someone else happy, they are going to pass it on," she said.

Lily is ready to help others, too. One day, she met an old man carrying a box full of food when suddenly it dropped on the ground. He was having difficulty picking it up, so she helped him pick it up.

(W) Amy was a girl from a small village. She was pleased knowing she was accepted by a famous school.

Today was her first day of school. When seeing her simple clothes, other students started making fun of her. Then their teacher Ms. Hunt arrived. They kept quiet. She introduced Amy to the class and told them to be ready for a test. She told everyone to write down the Seven Wonders of the world. Ten minutes later, she read everyone's answers. Their answers included the Great Wall of China, Great Pyramid, Taj Mahal and so on.

Ms. Hunt was happy that the students remembered what they learned. She picked up Amy's paper and read, "The seven wonders are — to be able to see, to be able to hear, to be able to feel, to laugh, to think, to be kind and to love!"

The whole class was in silence. Amy reminded them about the valuable things that everyone has, which are true wonders.
