四、阅读理解(共 20 小题,51—55 每小题 1 分,56—70 每小题 2 分,共 35 分)

A

It is believed in some ways that daughter is father's lover. But my experience has taught me in a different way. He was a man of few words and nothing else.

When I was in primary school, my father never came to any of my parent-teacher meetings. He was always busy. I remember when I was in middle school, my head was badly hurt in a PE class. During my operation(手术) my father was nowhere to be found. At that moment, I considered my father as a cold-blooded man who did not care about me at all.

But things seemed different at my high school graduation ceremony(毕业典礼) where I was chosen to give a speech. My father, once again, told me he had a business trip outside the city and would be unable to show up(露面). "Don't come. I will be very nervous if I see you." I told him. I remember my speech went smoothly. After the ceremony, I was about to leave. I suddenly noticed a familiar-looking(面熟的) man sitting in a corner. It was my father! I was so surprised that I rushed to him with tears running down my face. "Well done," he said, eyes also filled with tears. Later, I found out that my father had managed to finish his work by staying up late and he drove for eight hours to get back. He remembered every word in my speech.

For much of my life, I described my father as a cold blooded man who only cared about his work. But it was obviously not true. At my graduation ceremony, I could feel my father's deep love. The fact is that seeing is not believing, if we don't perceive(感知) the world with our hearts and minds. There's no doubt life doesn't lack(缺少) love, but sometimes our eyes have trouble seeing it.

根据短文内容,判断下列句子正误,正确的在答题卡上将“T”涂黑,错误的在答题卡上将“F”涂黑。

51. At first, she thought her father was a man of few words and nothing special.
52. Her father went to the parent-teacher meetings when she was in primary school.
53. She considered her father as a cold-blooded man because he wasn't in the hospital during her operation.
54. Her father didn't attend her high school graduation ceremony.
55. She was moved to find that her father cared about her in the end.

B

①He tried it once more and he felt himself going when he turned the fish. The fish righted himself and swam off again slowly.

②"I'll try it again," the old man promised himself, although he had little strength now.

③He tried it again and it was the same. So, he thought, and he felt himself going before he started; I'll try it once again.

④He took all his pain and what was left of his strength and his long gone pride and he put it against the fish's pain and the fish came over onto his side and swam gently, his mouth almost touching the boat.

⑤The old man dropped the line and put his foot on it and lifted the harpoon(鱼叉) as high as he could and drove it down with all his strength, and more strength he had just gathered, into the fish's side just behind the great chest fin(胸鳍) that rose high in the air to the height of the man's chest. He felt the iron(铁) go in and he leaned(倚靠) on it and drove it further and then pushed all his weight after it.

⑥Then the fish came alive, with his death in him, and rose high out of the water showing all his great length and width and all his power and his beauty. He seemed to hang in the air above the old man. Then he fell into the water with a crash(碰撞) that sent spray(水花) over the old man and over all of the boat.

China has changed a lot over the years since I first moved here. One main development is the adoption(采用) of the cashless payment(无现金支付), which has changed the way we live and shop.

China is hardly the first country to have cashless payment. I used a debit card(借记卡) to pay for things without cash for years in the US. But now I can use my phone instead. It's quite easy and convenient.

One of the things I like most is that I can send and receive money directly among my friends. It makes it so much easier to split the bill when we eat out together. People can send money to the person who has paid the bill on their phones. And it makes it simple to make donations(捐赠) as well. For example, I often donate to a pet adoption agency(宠物领养机构). Their official WeChat account has a QR code(二维码) that I can scan to give them a donation.

But like all technology, cashless payment has some problems as well. What happens if your phone gets lost or stolen? There are also times when your phone's mobile Internet connection or the store's Internet connection might not work. Not long ago, I went to nearby convenience(便利) store to buy some snacks. But when I got there, I found that the store's cashless payment didn't work and they could only accept cash. I didn't have any cash with me, so I had to give up and leave without any snacks.

So even though cashless payments are convenient, you should always carry a bit of cash in order to avoid any possible inconvenience.

根据短文内容,选择最佳选项,并在答题卡上将选定答案的字母标号涂黑。

61. _____ changed the way Chinese live and shop according to the passage.
A. Shopping online B. Cash payment C. Cashless payment D. ATM bank

A. 分摊 B. 解决 C. 支付 D. 呈递
63. Cashless payment sometimes causes some problems because _____.
A. the mobile Internet connection works well
B. there is something wrong with store Internet connection sometimes
C. people always bring some cash while going shopping
D. mobile phone won't be stolen in the future
64. According to the passage, which of the following is NOT true?
A. You should always carry a bit of cash in case of any possible inconvenience.
B. The writer can scan QR code to donate to a pet adoption agency.
C. The writer managed to buy snacks in the nearby convenience store.
D. One of China's main developments is the adoption of the cashless payment.
65. What's the main idea of the passage?
A. Different payments in China and the US. B. Technology changes the way of payment.
C. QR codes cause cashless payment. D. Cashless payment has good and bad sides.

D

Has anyone ever told you that eating carrots will help you see in the dark?

This is just one of many incorrect beliefs you may have heard. Below, TEENS has picked out scientific explanations for three mistakes that people make about their eyes. Let's take a look.

Can eating carrots improve your eyesight?

Carrots are rich in vitamin A, which helps the eyes to turn light into information for your brain. This allows people to see in darker places.

However, eating more carrots won't help you see better. A certain minimum amount will help, but a large number of carrots will not give you superhuman(超人) vision.

If your parents have bad eyesight, will you have bad eyesight, too?

Myopia(近视) can be passed from parents to children. A study by the American Optometric Association found that if both parents are myopic, there's a 33 to 60 percent chance that their child will be. For children who have one parent with myopia, the chance is 23 to 40 percent, and it's down to 6 to 15 percent for kids with non-myopic parents.

So if your eyesight is bad, your children might still have good vision.

Do color blind people see the world in black and white?

Color blindness doesn't usually mean that people see the world like an old movie. They usually can't tell certain colors apart, especially green and red. Another commonly confused(混淆的) pair of colors is yellow and blue.

Our eyes have cone cells(视锥细胞) that sense different wavelengths(波长) of light. If these cells don't work properly, color blindness occurs(发生).

There are different levels of color blindness. Some people are only color blind in low light.

However, in the most serious form of color blindness, everything is shades(色度) of gray.

根据短文内容,选择最佳选项,并在答题卡上将选定答案的字母标号涂黑。

66. Which can help the eyes to turn light into information for the brain?
A. Vitamin A. B. Vitamin B. C. Vitamin C. D. Vitamin D.
67. According to the article, eating carrots _____.
A. stops the brain from seeing B. is good for your eyes in some ways
C. will give you superhuman vision D. doesn't help you see better at all

68. If both parents have myopia, their child's chance of having good eyesight is _____.
 A. 40~67% B. 33~60% C. 23~40% D. 6~15%
69. What is the cause of color blindness, according to the text?
 A. Watching movies for too long. B. Getting too little exercise.
 C. Cone cells not working properly. D. Changes in the wavelength of light.
70. What is the purpose of the article?
 A. To offer some advice on protecting your eyes.
 B. To explain how bad eyesight and color blindness form.
 C. To provide help for improving your vision.
 D. To clear up some misunderstandings about our eyes.
