Hello Lisa,

How is it going? It's time for me to leave school. You ask me what I can do for my school.

Here are my plans that I would like to share with you. First of all, I will volunteer to do some cleaning with my classmates, such as cleaning the windows and sweeping the floors. To keep our school clean, we will ask our schoolmates not to litter at school. Also, I will give away my favorite books to the school library so that our younger schoolmates can read more good books. And I schoolmates to do so, will call on more schoolmates to do so.

It's really hard for me to say goodbye. I hope my school will have a better future.

例文 2:

Hello Lisa,

How is it going? It's time for me to leave school. You ask me what I can do for my school.

Here are my plans I'd like to share with you. First of all, I plan to write a letter to the younger schoolmates, telling them to value the people around and get along well with them. And I will share my success and failure in study, too. Also, I will give some suggestions on how to make our school better. More trees and flowers must be planted. More after-class activities should be organized so that our schoolmates can join in them to relax.

I hope all of our younger schoolmates can live and study happily in our school.

Li Ming
