Wang Jinping, a 57-year-old woman from the Jidiao Island in Fujian, won the honor of "Most Beautiful Doctor in 2020".

For 34 years, Wang has been the only village doctor on this small island, providing medical services to the villagers.

The island is very small and develops very slowly. Over the years many people have left the island to live a different kind of life in the cities. Now, there are only about 400 people, and nearly half of them are seniors over 65 years old. "I really worry about these old people. So I usually visit them at their home every 10 days," Wang says.

Wang recalled that when she was a child, there was one or two village doctors in the village, but they left soon after they came because of the poor living conditions. The lack of medical care and medicine was a deep childhood memory for her on the island. When people were sick, they usually went up the mountain to collect some herbs (药草). Their mild (轻微的) illnesses might be developed into serious diseases in the end.

Today, with Wang's help, the case is becoming better. If they feel unwell, they can get help from Wang as soon as possible. Wang is happy for that she is needed. She wants to do more for them in the future.

26. Wang became the only doctor on the island when she was _____.
A. 23 years old B. 34 years old C. 45 years old
27. What does the underlined word "seniors" mean?
A. Sick people. B. Old people. C. Homeless people.
28. What did the villagers use to do when they were sick in the past?
A. They took a hot shower at home. B. They lay on the bed to have a rest.
C. They found some herbs on the mountain.
29. What does the fourth paragraph mainly talk about?
A. Wang's old memory. B. Wang's dream. C. Wang's work experience.
30. What can we learn from the passage?
A. Everyone on the island has an unhappy life.
B. There are two village doctors on the island now.
C. Wang will keep providing medical services to the villagers in the future.

Many years ago, people used the sun, the moon and stars to find their way around. Later, the compass (指南针) was introduced. And now, we have satellite navigation systems to guide us.

Independently built and developed by China. BeiDou Navigation Satellite System (BDS) is one of the world's four global navigation networks. It's named after the Chinese word for the Big Dipper (北斗七星).

Plans for China's own system took shape in 1994 and BDS-1 was in service by 2000. Completed in 2003, BDS-1 made China the third country after the U.S. and Russia to have a satellite navigation system. BDS-2 was completed by 2012 and offered services to the Asia Pacific region. And BDS-3, completed this year, will offer services to the world.

As the first and only system in the world that integrates (合并) communication and navigation, the BeiDou system is widely used in many public and private fields. It has a great influence on China's social and economic (经济的) development, as well as people's daily lives. For example, buses in some cities are provided with electric bus information board controlled by BDS. It shows passengers where the bus is at the moment and how long they need to wait. Outside of China, the BeiDou system is also drawing fans. More than 120 countries and regions in the world are using it now.

BDS belongs to the whole world and all human beings. Without doubt, it will lead people to a better life.

36. Which of the following questions is answered in Paragraph 1?
 A. How did people find their way around in the past?
 B. How does China's BDS get its name?
 C. How long did it take China to complete BDS?
37. What is Paragraph 3 mainly about?
 A. The popularity of China's BDS. B. The influences China's BDS had.
 C. The development of China's BDS.
38. What does the example in Paragraph 4 show?
 A. BDS plays an important role in communication.
 B. BDS is closely connected with people's lives.
 C. BDS is better than any other satellite navigation system.
39. What is true about BDS?
 A. Over 120 countries and regions in the world are using BDS now.
 B. BDS-3 was completed by 2012.
 C. BDS is only used in some private fields.
40. What is the purpose of the passage?
 A. To show China's BDS has a bright future. B. To help people understand China's BDS.
 C. To tell us China is becoming much stronger.

Pay a visit to the moon

On the morning of Nov 24, 2020, the Chang'e lunar probe (月球探测器) was launched (发射) from the Wenchang Space Launch Center in Hainan. The Chang'e 5 mission (任务) is special for several reasons.

It's China's first sample (样本) return mission. This means that the Chang'e 5 probe will collect samples of the moon's soil and rocks. The last lunar sample return mission was the former Soviet Union's Luna 24 mission in 1976.

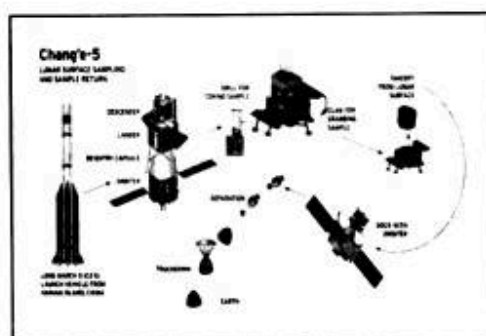

The former Soviet Union brought back 330 grams of lunar soil samples, while Chang'e 5 is aiming for 2 kilograms of lunar samples. Chang'e 5 doesn't need a return cabin (舱), so it only needs a small amount of fuel. This allows it to carry heavier samples.

Chang'e 5's lunar landing site is a part of the moon where no probes have been before. Known as the Ocean of Storms, the site is on the near side of the moon.

66. When was the Chang'e lunar probe launched?

67. Where was the Chang'e lunar probe launched from?

68. What will the Chang'e 5 probe collect?

69. How many samples are Chang'e 5 aiming for?

70. Does Chang'e 5 need a return Cabin?
