三、阅读理解（共 15 小题；每小题 2 分，计 30 分）

阅读下列内容，从每小题所给的四个选项中选出一个最佳答案。

A

New discovery of interest

Take a selfie in space
Thanks to the NASA Selfies (自拍) app, we can take our own selfies in space. You first take a picture with your phone. The app sends your picture inside the helmet of an astronaut. You can then choose a background. Tada! You can pretend (假装) to be an astronaut.
Diet of a shark
Do all sharks eat meat? This may not be the case for the bonnethead shark. According to studies from the University of California, this kind of shark also eats seagrass. Sixty percent of their daily diet is made up of plants. They can digest (消化) the seagrass without any problems.
33
Learning music can improve children's language skills, according to scientists from MIT. Children who learned musical instrument, especially piano are more sensitive(敏感的) to different tones (音调). This helps them recognize words better.

31. How can the NASA app help you take a selfie in space?
- A. It sends your picture to a spacecraft.
B. It allows you to board a spacecraft.
C. It has a special helmet for you to wear.
D. It puts your photo in an astronaut's helmet.
32. What does the bonnethead shark mainly eat?
- A. Meat. B. Plants. C. Insects. D. Seabirds.
33. What is suitable for this blank?
- A. Different language skills B. The power of music
C. Choose the best instrument D. Be sensitive to music

B

You may have heard the saying "The Yangtze River is China's mother river." The main route of the Yangtze is almost 6,400 km long. As the world's third-longest river, its valley (流域) covers one-fifth of China's land area. The Yangtze River Economic Zone covers 11 provinces and cities, making up about 40 percent of China's total population and GDP.

On Dec 26, China's top legislature (立法机关) passed the Yangtze River Protection Law, which will work on March 1, 2021. It is the first law to protect a waterway in China, CGTN noted.

The "mother river" is in great need of protection because something is wrong with it. For example, the river's Chinese paddlefish (白鲟) has died out after surviving for 150 million years because of overfishing and water pollution. There're also desertified (荒漠化的) land and soil pollution near the upstream part of the river in Qinghai province, Xinhua reported.

The Yangtze River Protection Law includes bans (禁止) on activities that could have terrible influence on the river. It also includes heavier punishments for those who don't follow the law.

According to the law, fishing will be banned in all of the Yangtze's natural waterways, including its major tributaries (支流) and lakes. Those who are caught fishing will be fined 50,000 to 500,000 yuan.

Sand mining (采沙) will be strictly limited in the river valley. Many companies are mining sand along the river, as sand is a rare resource. However, this has led to lower water levels on the river, which has caused the river's water quality to become worse.

Companies operating along the river will turn to green development. Companies that produce dangerous chemicals will move out, the law says.

34. What does the first paragraph tell us about the Yangtze River?

- A. How old it is.
- B. How important it is.
- C. What problems it has.
- D. What its environment is like.

35. The following are the reasons that the "mother river" is in great need of protection, except _____.

- A. because there is overfishing
- B. because it's the third longest river in the world
- C. because of the water pollution
- D. because of the soil pollution near its upstream

36. What can we know from the passage?

- A. People can't fish in the river's major lakes.
- B. Sand mining will not be allowed in the river valley.
- C. Companies along the river will be moved to other places.
- D. Anyone who causes pollution will be fined at least 50,000 yuan.

37. This passage is most probably from _____.

- A. an advertisement
- B. a fashion magazine
- C. a newspaper
- D. a guide book

C

It was a cold November morning several years ago. My alarm clock had just gone off, but I was having trouble getting out of bed. My dad had died a few weeks before. I felt weighed down by sadness and depression.

Tough and strong, my dad had worked so hard all of his life to support us. He had a temper and would sometimes shout at my brothers and me, but I always knew that he loved me. Still, he had been raised in a traditional way and raised us that way too. I couldn't remember, for example, ever being hugged(拥抱) by him.

But at last, my mom and grandma passed away. My dad moved into grandma's home right up the road from where I lived. I was so happy to have him close by. I would often visit him and just talk with him about life. But we still seldom touched and never hugged. Finally his own health began to quickly fail and in a few months he left us. It was a cold morning when we had his service, but I was too cold and numb (麻木的) inside myself to feel it. I couldn't remember when we'd had our last hug.

I sighed (叹气) and got out of my bed. I turned on the lights and walked into the hallway. I saw my son JJ walking down the hall to meet me. Suddenly, he opened his arms and gave me a heart-felt hug. And just as he did, I heard my dad's voice deep inside of me say, "Joey, this hug is from me!" I cried and smiled at the same time. In that moment, in the place where heart, mind, and spirit all met, I felt loved. I felt loved by my dad. I felt loved by life.

38. What does the underlined phrase "weighed down" mean in the first paragraph?
- A. losing weight very suddenly
B. worried and unhappy
C. putting on lots of weight quickly
D. extremely bored
39. What made the writer feel happier in Paragraph 3?
- A. His mom and grandma stopped talking.
B. His dad moved out of his house.
C. His dad moved into a nearby house.
D. His dad could look after his grandma.
40. Put the following events in the order in which they happened.
- ①The writer recalled his dad as he lay in bed.
②The mother and grandmother died.
③The father passed away a few months later.
④The father raised the children as he was raised.
⑤The writer felt like his dad was hugging him.
⑥The writer's son came to give him a hug.
- A. ①④②③⑤⑥
B. ①⑥⑤④③②
C. ④③②①⑥⑤
D. ④②③①⑥⑤
41. Why does the writer write this passage?
- A. To express that everybody needs a hug.
B. To thank his son's hug.
C. To express that he dislikes his father.
D. To thank his father's raising.

D

Every day, from early in the morning until late in the evening, under the hot sun, the slaves picked cotton and put it in their sack. When finishing, Legree weighed it, and there was whipping(抽打) for the slaves that didn't pick enough cotton. Tom learnt to pick cotton quickly.

One day a new beautiful woman, Cassy, arrived to pick cotton. Tom noticed that she was very fast, he also noticed that an older slave, Martha, was in pain. She was slow, and her sack was almost empty. Tom went near Martha, and silently put a lot of his cotton into her sack.

"No, don't!" said the new woman, "They will punish you."

Just then Sambo arrived.

"What's happening?" he said, and he kicked Martha and whipped Tom across his face.

"Work faster, you animal!" But when he left, Tom quickly gave her some more of his cotton.

Suddenly, the new woman put much cotton in Tom's sack.

"Tom is going to make much trouble. He kept putting cotton into Marth's sack," Sambo told Legree.

"Then we'll have to teach him a lesson," said Legree.

Slowly the tired slaves came into the room for the weighing of the sacks. First Legree weighed Tom's sack, and it was enough. Martha's sack was next. The weight was enough, but Legree shouted at her.

"You lazy animal! This is not enough! Stay here and wait." He finished weighing all the other sacks, and then turned to Tom.

"Come here," said Legree, "I want to give you a better job than picking cotton, and you can start tonight: take this woman and whip her-you know how."

"I'm sorry, Master," said Tom. "I can't do it."

Legree whipped Tom across his face and then hit him with his fists many times.

“There!” he said. “Now will you tell me you can’t do it?”

“Yes, Master,” said Tom, with blood running down his face. “I will work night and day, but I will never whip another person.”

“I bought you, and you’re mine, body and soul”, Legree said, kicking Tom.

“My soul isn’t yours, Master! You can’t buy it!”

“We’ll see,” said Legree, “Sambo, Quimbo, give this dog a lesson.”

---Taken from Uncle Tom’s Cabin

42. What was the new beautiful woman like?
- A. Kind and helpful. B. Selfish and cold-hearted.
C. Kind but impolite. D. Selfless but polite.
43. Why did Sambo and Legree call the older slave, Martha, animal?
- A. Because Martha looked like an animal.
B. Because Martha was good at feeding animals.
C. Because they liked animals very much.
D. Because they didn’t respect slaves at all.
44. How many times did Tom reply against Legree in this passage?
- A. Once. B. Twice. C. Three times. D. Four times.
45. What would happen next according to the development of the plot?
- A. They would teach Tom something. B. They would kill the dog.
C. They would do harm to Tom. D. They would feed the dog.

Blood Donation, which covers all of England and North Wales, needs nearly two and a half million blood donations each year. When you donate blood, you’ll be doing one of the most amazing things anybody could dream of- saving a life.

What types of blood are needed?

All types of blood are needed--not just rare ones. In fact, we need the commonest blood type most. So even if your blood is one of the commonest types- group O for example, you can be sure that by donating three times a year, you are really doing something that people wonder at.

What is the donation process?

A donation usually takes about an hour in all. When you arrive, you will be asked a few questions about your health. Then a drop of blood will be taken and tested just to make sure if you're anemic (贫血). If all is well, your donation will be taken.

This only needs about ten minutes, during which 470ml of blood will be collected. Most people hardly feel a thing. After a short rest, have a drink and biscuits, you'll be up and ready to go. All equipment used in the collection of your blood is new and is never reused, so you don't have to worry about risks to your health in the collection of your blood.

Who can become a blood donor?

Becoming a blood donor is really very simple. As long as you're healthy and aged between 17 and 60, you can become a blood donor. If you would like to know more information or advice, or you want to become a blood donor, ring the donor helpline, the number is 0845-7711. The donor helpline is open 24 hours a day- every day of the year.
