Because my father is a doctor, he has kept working all day and all night during the outbreak (爆发) of COVID-19. At the beginning, he was afraid I was infected (感染), so he had to live in his office. My grandma stayed with us in our house and she took good care of me. My mom said she was a little worried about my dad's health. But she still supported his work.

Now we live together again. Every time my dad comes back home from hospital, he buys vegetables and daily necessities (日用品). We disinfect (消毒) them before use. This kind of life has lasted nearly half a year. Luckily, my father is never infected because he is always taking some protective ways carefully. I love him and I love my family.

My father's job is dangerous, but he keeps working hard. I think he is a hero. I'm proud of him. I believe that with the help of medical workers like my father, China and the world will win this war against COVID-19. Good luck to my motherland and the world.

B

BONJOUR (hello)! Welcome to France! It is the biggest country in Western Europe. Paris, the city of light, is its capital.

France is famous for fine art. Auguste Rodin (奥古斯特·罗丹) and Claude Monet (克劳德·莫奈) are great French artists. You can see some of their works in the world's best-known museum, the Louvre in Paris. Today if you visit France, you can still feel artistic everywhere. It's easy to meet street artists in the center of the city or you may meet a singer in the subway.

Transportation in France is also well known. It made many advanced (先进的) airplanes, including the A380. It is the largest passenger airplane in the world. It can hold about 500 people. A normal plane can hold 100 to 300 people.

But the country is not perfect. Pick-pocketing (偷窃) happens a lot in Paris. They steal tourists' money and bags. Many Chinese visitors feel unhappy about it.

30. France is the largest country in
 A. Europe B. Asia C. Western Europe D. Southern America
 31. What is France well-known for?
 A. Fine art and delicious food. B. Pick-pocketing.
 C. Transportation and fine art. D. Back-packing.
 32. What can you probably see in France?
 A. Auguste Rodin. B. The Louvre Museum.
 C. Claude Monet. D. The Leaning Tower.
 33. Why does the author think France is not perfect?
 A. Because there are too many visitors. B. Because there are too many airplanes.
 C. Because there are too many thieves. D. Because there are too many street artists.

C

The animal world is full of secrets and wonders. A rabbit can be as big as a dog. A hippo (河马) can make friends with a tortoise. Do these stories sound unbelievable? Scientists have found they are true. Here are two strange animal stories.

The hippo and the tortoise

Owen is a young hippo. He lost his family during the Indian Ocean Tsunami (印度洋海啸). Later he was sent to a wildlife park in Kenya by some villagers. There he found Mzee, a 130-year-old tortoise. They became good friends.

At first the tortoise didn't like the hippo. But Owen didn't give up. Now they can't live without each other. They eat meals together. They spend hours playing in the pond together. They even sleep side by side at night.

Mzee has a round shape and gray colour, so Owen may think he is a hippo too. But in fact

Mzee now follows Owen around. He pushes him to go for walks and asks him to play in the water. Sometimes he even stretches (伸展) his neck out so that Owen can give him a lick.

A strange dolphin

If you have seen dolphins at the zoo, you'll know that they usually have two fins (鳍). Their fins look like other mammals' arms or front legs. Recently people found an unusual dolphin in Japan. It has an extra pair of fins near its tail, about the size of human hands. Japanese fishermen caught one of these dolphins. Scientists say its extra fins are a sign that long ago dolphins lived on land and had more than two fins.

34. During the Indian Ocean Tsunami, [REDACTED].
- A. Owen lost his way B. Owen's parents died
C. Owen liked a tortoise D. Owen went to a park
35. What do we know about Mzee and Owen from the text?
- A. Mzee thinks Owen is a tortoise. B. Mzee often makes fun of Owen.
C. They eat, play and sleep together. D. They can live without each other.
36. Scientists think that the dolphin found in Japan [REDACTED].
- A. is not a real mammal B. can live on land now
C. has both arms and legs D. is strange but important
37. In which part of a magazine can we probably read this text?
- A. People and places. B. Man's best friends.
C. Natural elements. D. Colorful life.

Do you think it is excellent to go to France in the coming summer holiday? Maybe you don't know France has different kinds of foods. Let's take a look at some tasty food in France.

Bread

Bread is a very important food in France. People eat it with almost every meal. The most popular French bread is a baguette (法棍面包). It is long, hard and tastes salty. It goes dry very quickly. But French people still eat this kind of dry bread. They call it "lost bread"!

Cheese

If you are a cheese lover, France is your dream place. Former French president (前法国总 统) Charles de Gaulle (夏尔·戴高乐) once joked of how he could govern (统治) a country that has 246 kinds of cheese, CNN reported. Cheese comes in different colors, sizes and smells. Some cheeses have strong smells. Not everyone likes it!

Snails (蜗牛)

France is also famous for some strange food. One of them is snails. French people eat 40,000 tons of snails every year! People like cooking snails with butter and garlic (大蒜).

After reading your blog about your first pet, I felt happy about you and your pet. Now let me tell you a story about me and my pet.

I have a goldfish as my pet. She is a beautiful goldfish with two big eyes. Her name is Huahua. I bought it from a market nearby and I gave her the name.

Huahua is a smart goldfish. She can understand my words. One day, I went to see her and found she was always swimming at the bottom. Then I understood why. I forgot to feed her in the morning. I apologized to her. She swam up and down to show she was not angry. I laughed happily. I love my pet goldfish.

I hope I can receive your letter soon.

Yours,

Li Hua
