I went to a zoo with my family last week. It was a special gift for my brother's eleventh birthday. My brother loved the visit. He felt a bit scared when the tigers made a noise, but the rest of the time, he thought everything was fantastic. But I hated the visit. The lions looked sad and bored. The birds couldn't fly very high inside the zoo. The monkeys were the only happy animals. I talked to the zookeepers. They agreed that the animals needed bigger space and more interesting lives, but they said they didn't have enough money. I decided to organize an event to raise some money. Now I need volunteers to help me make artwork about animals. Please call me at 531-4796 if you're interested.
