By January 31st 2020, Sun Jinzhong had been working for the patients with COVID - 19 for 10 days in Wuhan. He got a video from his wife.

It showed some pictures of his young daughter having video talks with him. The sound of the video is her reading out her article called "My father's eyes". The 8-year-old third grader wrote the article as her winter vacation homework. It's about her father working in Wuhan.

After listening to the article, he was moved to tears. He was very glad his daughter understood and supported him. He said, "I told my daughter many of my workmates were also on the front line. They work harder and are in a more dangerous situation than me."

"My father and I haven't met for a few days. We can only see each other through video calls on the phone because of the terrible illness. Although my father is not a soldier, he is a 'warrior' dressed in white in the war against COVID - 19. He told me that the patients' rooms were his battlefield, and that it is his duty to fight for and protect as many patients as possible."

"Today, I had a video talk with him again. I could only see his eyes through the goggles. They were full of love, tears, hope and confidence. I know he was in a dangerous situation, but his eyes seemed to be saying 'I'm fine'."

(D)

There is nobody in the world that is exactly like you: You are unique. 36 That makes the world colorful. There are people who are taller than you. Maybe your hair is the same color as your friend's, but perhaps yours is longer than hers. 37

I am sure you have friends who are smarter than you. 38 But there are also people around you who are not good at these things. 39

40 Do you both like to finish your homework on the same day you get it? Are you both neat? I think in some ways you are the same, but in some other ways you are different.

So shout to the world, "I am who I am - I am unique!" It needs all sorts to make a world.
