It was a hot summer day, I noticed two elderly women were standing back from their car when I passed them. There was a mixture of shock and fear on their faces. I looked and saw what they saw: five yellowjackets building a nest around their gas cap. I shared the ladies' fear.

Yellowjackets had never been friends of mine. Several times these Yellowjackets had hurt me while I was cutting the grass. The worst time, however, happened when I was a young boy. A friend of mine and I were running and playing in my backyard. I must have stepped on one of their hidden nests again because before I knew it, both of us were being chased and stung over and over by the yellowjackets while we ran away screaming. I ran to my mom with tears in my eyes.

Still, I knew I couldn't let fear stop me now. I reached into my back pocket for a paper towel I had there, tore out the nest and stepped on it while the angry Yellowjackets buzzed around me. Both of the ladies thanked me, and I said, "You're welcome!" with a smile and a happy heart.

In this life, you can't let the fear of being hurt keep you from doing what is right. We need to love each other and to change the world for the better. And the only way you can do this is one loving act, one kind word and one shared smile at a time. Don't let the yellowjackets in your life hold you back. Live! Love! Do good today!

26. What is the purpose of paragraph 2?

- A. To explain why the author was struck with fear when he saw yellowjackets.
- B. To show that the author was angry with yellowjackets.
- C. To describe how badly the author was hurt by yellowjackets.
- D. To prove that the author wasn't the small boy he used to be.

27. Why did the author decide to help the two ladies?

- A. He wanted to get over his fear.
- B. He was asked by the two ladies.
- C. He had experience in dealing with yellowjackets.
- D. He wanted to do what he thought was right.

28. What does the underlined "this" in paragraph 4 refer to?

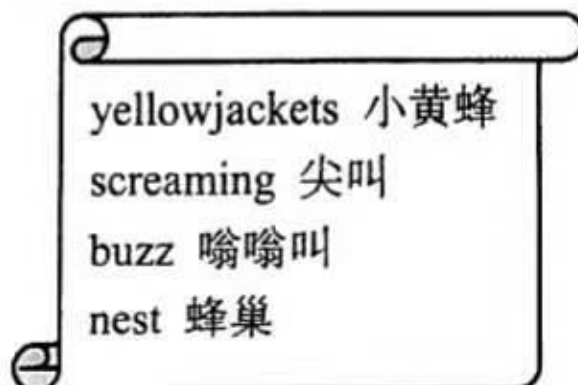

- A. Making friends with others.
- B. Overcoming our shortcomings.
- C. Being a popular person in life.
- D. Making the world a better place.

29. What is the author's purpose in writing this article?

- A. To teach readers how to deal with yellowjackets.
- B. To tell readers to do kind things even if they're afraid.
- C. To share his scary experiences with yellowjackets.
- D. To show how he beat his fear of yellowjackets.

30. What's the best title of this passage?

- A. Fear cannot hold you back.
- B. Never fear yellowjackets.
- C. Spread love.
- D. Fear is helpful.

C

Most of us are used to using jet hand dryers in public restrooms. They're surely very convenient -all we need to do is to hold up our hands for a few seconds until they're dry. And more importantly, they're supposed to be hygienic.

However, a new study published in the journal Hospital Infection found that jet hand dryers actually spread more dangerous bacteria than paper towels.

In the study, two restrooms in each of three different hospitals in the UK, France and Italy were required to provide both jet air dryers and paper towels for people to use. But on certain days, only either the hand dryer or the paper towel dispenser was available to use. The scientists found that when only the hand dryer was available, the amount of bacteria in the restrooms was 27 times higher than on other days.

According to study leader Mark Wilcox, air dryers spread harmful bacteria all over the room. This means that if people use these dryers, they're more likely to pick up bacteria. At the same time, however, this raises the question of why these bacteria can be found in the first place if people are washing their hands after using the restroom.

"The problem starts because some people do not wash their hands properly," Wilcox told The Telegraph. In other words, poor hand-washing leads to a large amount of bacteria being left on your hands.

31. Which words can be used to describe jet hand dryers for most people?

- A. necessary. B. convenient. C. harmful. D. traditional.

32. What is Paragraph 3 mainly about?

- A. Why scientists studied hand dryers.
B. Why scientists chose three different hospitals.
C. How scientists carried out the experiment.
D. How scientists prepared for their study.

33. According to the study, when did the restrooms have more bacteria?

- A. When only the hand dryer was available to use.
B. When only paper towels were available to use.
C. When both the hand dryer and the paper towel dispenser were available to use.
D. When neither the hand dryer nor the paper towel dispenser were available to use.

34. According to the last paragraph, how can we stop bacteria?

- A. By using clean restrooms.
B. By using both the hand dryer and the paper towel dispenser.
C. By using paper towels dispenser.
D. By washing our hands properly.

35. What do we know from the passage?

- A. Modern technology causes more problems.
B. Good habits can protect you from danger.
C. It's common to pick up bacteria in public places.
D. Scientists will find a way to improve hand dryers.

D

What roles do your parents play in your family? 36._____ In modern families, mothers may have their own jobs, and fathers also help out with housework and take care of children.

This is probably why recently, the brand slogan "Loved by kids, Praised by mums," which appeared in ads for a well-known breakfast cereal, led to heated discussion online. 37._____

An article in the newspaper Louisiana Weekly said: "As the number of working parents increases, the roles of men and women have changed over time."

In fact, more and more men have changed their views on their roles in families. 38._____ However, the biggest problem facing them is not only dealing with housework and childcare, but also doubts over whether they're doing enough.

"39. _____ You're valued by how much time you're able to spend with your kids and how much you're able to do with your family," Matt Schneider, co-founder of a US-based network for stay-at-home dads, told CBS News.

However, although they meet many difficulties, there are special moments that make it worthwhile for stay-at-home fathers. "When my son puts his head on my chest, and says, 'I love you,' I don't even know if he knows what that means," Scott Durkin, a stay-at-home dad, told ABC News, "40. _____"

My name is Jim I'm going to talk about two important people in my Life - Mrs.Smith and Carl. Mrs.Smith lives next door. When I was young and my mom was working, Mrs. Smith used to look after me. She used to make cakes and pies for me. Now she doesn't cook so much. She starts to go to the sports club for old people in her free time. I don't see her so often now. I really miss the old days. Carl was my friend in primary school and he's one year older than me. I have known him since I was seven. We became good friends because we were interested in the same things :computers and football. We used to make model rockets together at the School Science Club. Now we're in different junior high schools. Next year I'm probably going to be an ex-change student in London, but I'm sure our friendship won't change.
