I couldn't wait to have my own apartment. I have a big family with two brothers and two sisters. I love my family very much. But I really wanted my own place! Well, that day finally came!

When I was starting my college life, I was allowed to rent an apartment near my college. It wasn't big or nice, but it was my apartment. It was about two hours away from my parents' house. I decorated(装饰) the rooms the way I liked and painted the walls green. It was a very special time.

But something was missing, and I couldn't understand what it was. I felt a little down. While I was sitting on the sofa thinking, the doorbell rang. I opened the door. Standing there was my whole family. There were twenty of them! Brothers, sisters and cousins, aunts and uncles, and of course, my mother and father. They had come a long way to surprise me with a party. I was very happy!

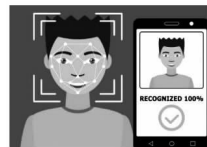

We had a great time. When the party was over, I realized that even though I had my own place and was feeling like a real grown-up, I was homesick(想家的).

Now I visit my family once a week because I learned something that day—there's no place like home.

41. There are four children in the writer's family.

B) 阅读短文, 从每题所给的 A、B、C 三个选项中选出最佳答案回答问题或完成句子。(共 5 小题, 每小题 2 分)

Forgot your password (密码) or your ID? Well, you'll never forget your face. Using your face as your ID is quick and convenient. You could take the subway or board a flight with just your face alone. This is how facial recognition(人脸识别) works. It has also been used to catch criminals.

In China, facial recognition systems have been used in many areas. In Zhengzhou, people can now get on the subway by using facial recognition technology. Students at Peking University can pass through the school's gate by scanning their faces?

However, nowadays there are no laws to require how to use and collect the facial information, according to Zhao Zhanling, a law researcher at the China University of Political Science and Law. Many people are worried about the collection and use of this information by governments and companies. Why is it necessary to collect data(数据) about your face and what will the data be used for? These are some common questions about the facial recognition arguments.

"I feel uncomfortable because I don't know how the company is using my facial information or whether they will tell others,” Feng Yi, a tourism company clerk, said about Zhengzhou’s subway smartphone app. When someone steals your personal information, you can change your bank card and password, but can you change your face when your facial information is stolen? It’s dangerous!

As facial recognition is used more and more in our daily lives—from college schoolyards and subways to street corners and smartphones—we must ask ourselves whether or not this new technology is worth the risk.

46. What can’t we do with facial recognition according to Paragraph 1?
A. Take the subway. B. Catch criminals. C. Get money from a bank.
47. What does the underlined word “scanning” mean in Chinese?
A. 浏览 B. 辨认 C. 扫描
48. Which of the following is the common question?
A. How will the facial data be used?
B. Why is it necessary to collect data about your face?
C. Can you change your face when your facial information is stolen?
49. What do people mainly worry about in Paragraph 4?
A. Collection of facial information. B. Recognition of personal information.
C. Safety of facial information.
50. What’s the main idea for this article?
A. Big data is necessary. B. Facial recognition is used widely.
C. Smartphone app is popular.

You know now that 5G network (网络) can give you a faster online experience. 71. In fact, 5G can do much more than this.

Here are some of the major things that 5G can do.

Education. 72. 你需要在家上课吗? If you have 5G, you can have your classes outside your house. The class can go as smoothly as the ones you have inside your home.

Medical care. Xiao Ming is at school. Suddenly he feels uncomfortable and falls down on the ground. An ambulance (救护车) comes. Doctors at the ambulance send his formation to the hospital through 5G. Doctors at the hospital get the formation. They can have a video call to diagnose (诊断) Xiao Ming. Where there is 5G, future medical care can be like this. Also, 73. When people are ill, they probably don't have to go to hospital. They can just see a doctor at home.

5G makes the Internet of things possible. 74. It is a large network that connects everything to the Internet. Smart homes are part of it. For example, your toaster knows when you get up, it will make your breakfast. Imagine a day with 5G in the future. At 7 o'clock in the morning, your pillow gently shakes. The curtain opens it without your help. You wake up. After 7:10, smart wardrobes (衣橱) show you the weather forecast and it tells you what to wear. At 7:30, you go to school in a self-driving car. At 5 o'clock in the afternoon, smart fridge shows a dinner recipe for your parents to cook. At 10, the lights turn off. 75. 是时候睡觉了。
