四、阅读理解 (共 20 小题; 51-65 题, 每小题 2 分, 66-70 题, 每小题 1 分, 满分 35 分)

第一节: 阅读下面短文, 从每题所给的 A、B、C、D 四个选项中, 选出最佳选项。

A

Rules for family
 Daniel	If I could make some rules for my family, the most important one would be to have all my family members do housework together. My mother usually does all the housework. It's unfair. My father and mother can take turns cooking. I'll wash dishes. And on weekends, we can clean the house together.
 Millie	My rule is that we should communicate with each other more. My parents often work until midnight and are very tired. But they usually play with their iPads or cellphones when they are relaxing. I think we should talk with each other for a while instead of playing with electronic devices (电子产品).
 Simon	I want to set some rules for my father. To stay fit, he should eat breakfast, exercise every day and stop smoking. He always watches TV for a long time and doesn't read books. So I want him to only watch TV for one hour every day. Instead, he can read a book, and we can discuss it together every week.
 Sandy	I want to set a rule for my family that we have to go out at least once a week together. I find that we have little time for one another. If we have this rule, we can go climbing, camping or simply run in the park together. It not only helps us stay fit and healthy, but also gives us more chances to talk to each other.

- () 51. _____ wishes to help his/ her parents with housework.
 A. Daniel B. Millie C. Simon D. Sandy
- () 52. Simon thinks his father _____.
 A. always does all the housework B. lives an unhealthy life
 C. goes climbing with family D. never works until midnight
- () 53. From the passage, we can know that _____.
 A. Simon wants to read a book for his father
 B. Millie thinks communication is important to her family
 C. Daniel's parents usually play with cellphones for pleasure
 D. Sandy hates camping or running in the park with her parents

B

Dear Haotian from 2021,

I am in 2035 now. Great changes have taken place in China.

When I was 7 years old, I suffered from (患有) a serious illness. Since then, I have dreamed of becoming a doctor when I grow up.

Now, my dream has come true and I am a doctor. I work in a hospital every day to save people's lives. There is more cutting-edge (前沿的) medical equipment and services. Doctors can perform operations even when they're far away from patients. This is because the Internet is faster now. We have 8G and surgical robots that are smart enough to operate accurately (准确地). It's a better way to save people's lives.

China is now one of the most developed countries in the world. Every car on the streets is a self-driving car. They use solar power and electricity and won't pollute the air. Robots are also widely used in every home. They can do all of the housework. When you return home, your house is clean and tidy.

Traveling to the moon has become popular. I know it's hard for you to imagine, but it's true. People between the ages of 18 to 60 are able to travel to the moon. I just bought a ticket and I'm going to travel to the moon soon. How exciting!

In 2035, everyone is living a comfortable life. But this is because people back in 2021 were working hard. Dear Haotian, work hard and create your own bright future!

Yours,

Haotian from 2035

- () 54. Why does Haotian want to be a doctor?
- A. Because he wants to help the other people.
 - B. Because he had a serious illness when he was 7.
 - C. Because his parents think being a doctor is a good job.
 - D. Because he knows there will be robots to help the doctor.
- () 55. What great changes have taken place according to Haotian from 2035?
- A. Robots are used to drive cars for people.
 - B. People of all ages can travel to the moon.
 - C. People do not need to do any housework.
 - D. Cars using electricity still cause pollution.
- () 56. How does Haotian feel about travelling to the moon?
- A. Afraid.
 - B. Surprised.
 - C. Interested.
 - D. Excited.
- () 57. What's the purpose of Haotian's writing this letter?
- A. To encourage himself to work hard now.
 - B. To advise himself to be a doctor in 2035.
 - C. To show himself the great changes in 2035.
 - D. To help himself learn about life in the future.

C

The bushes rustled a little in the thicket, and Father Wolf dropped with his back legs under him, ready for his jump. Then, the most wonderful thing happened. Father Wolf stopped in the middle of his jump. He jumped before he saw what he was jumping at, and then he tried to stop himself. The result was that he jumped straight up into the air for four or five feet, and came down nearly where he left the ground.

"Man!" he snapped. "A man cub. Look!"

Directly in front of him, holding on by a low branch, stood a naked brown baby. He was small and soft. He looked up into Father Wolf's face, and laughed.

"Is that a man cub?" asked Mother Wolf. "I have never seen one. Bring it here."

A wolf can, if necessary, hold an egg in his mouth without breaking it. And although Father Wolf's jaws closed down on the child's back he did not even scratch his skin as he laid him down among the wolf cubs.

"How little! How naked, and – how brave!" said Mother Wolf softly. The baby was moving between the cubs to get close to their warm skin. "Aha! He is taking his meal with the others. And so this is a man cub. Now, was there ever a wolf that could say she had a man cub among her children?"

"In the past I heard of such a thing, but never in our pack or in my time," said Father Wolf. "He is without hair, and I could kill him with a touch of my foot. But see, he looks up and he is not afraid."

- () 58. Father Wolf stopped during his jump because _____.

- A. he could not control his body B. he's surprised to see a baby
C. Mother Wolf told him to stop D. his left leg hurt suddenly
- () 59. The underlined sentence in Paragraph 3 shows that the man cub was _____.
A. small B. lovely C. brave D. lonely
- () 60. Father Wolf did the following things in the order of _____.
a. He laid the man cub down among the wolf cubs.
b. He stopped jumping when he saw a man cub.
c. He said he heard of the story that a man cub lived with wolf.
d. He got ready for his jump with his back legs under him.
A. d-b-a-c B. b-d-a-c C. d-b-c-a D. b-a-d-c
- () 61. From the passage, we can infer (推断) that _____.
A. Father Wolf would kill the man cub B. the man cub was left by his parents
C. Mother Wolf was afraid of the man cub
D. the wolves would treat the man cub like their own child

One day a professor (教授) entered her classroom and told her students about a surprise test. The students took their seats and waited for the test to begin. The professor put a test paper on each student's desk with the text facing down. She then asked them to turn the paper over and begin.

The students were surprised to see no questions, but just a single black dot (圆点) in the center of the page. The professor said, "I just want you to write down what you see on this paper."

The students were confused (困惑的), but did as they were told. At the end of class, the professor took their tests and started reading their answers aloud. Each student tried to describe the black dot – its size, its position on the paper. After the professor finished reading, the class was quiet.

She started to explain. "Don't worry. I won't be grading this test. But I want you to think about something. All of you only paid attention to the black dot on this test and wrote about it, but no one wrote about the white area around the dot."

"Imagine that this paper represents your life. The white area represents all of your life experiences – the black dot just stands for the bad things you've gone through. Life blesses us with many things – loved ones, enjoyable moments, and even miracles (奇迹) from time to time. However, we just focus on (关注) the negative. Our problems and difficulties can beat us."

"From now on, I want you to think about the big picture more often. Don't just focus on the black dots in your life. Remind yourself how lucky you are sometimes."

- () 62. How did the students feel about the test?
A. They thought the test was too difficult.
B. They believed their answers were correct.
C. They were confused about how to answer.
D. They were surprised to have such an easy test.
- () 63. What does the underlined part "the negative" refer to?
A. The bad things in life. B. The people we love.
C. The miracles in life. D. The enjoyable moments.
- () 64. Why did the professor give this test?
A. To play a trick on her students. B. To see which student was the best.
C. To teach her students a life lesson. D. To see who hadn't taken her class.
- () 65. What does the story want to tell us?
A. Pay more attention to your problems. B. Think about questions ahead of time.
C. Not everybody or everything is perfect.
D. It's better to focus on the good things in life.

第二节：根据短文内容，从短文后的选项中选出能填入空白处的最佳选项（选项中有两项为多余选项）。

Dinner isn't perfect without food's best friend: a drink. The world's most famous drinks are a mix of history and culture and are an important part of most holiday celebrations. 66

What's the global drink for victory (胜利)? It's champagne (香槟), a type of wine. It was first made in a place in France called Champagne. 67 But now, champagne is served at many every big events. Interestingly, the winners of sporting events are often sprayed (喷洒) with champagne, but don't drink it.

If champagne is for exciting moments, then tea is for more relaxed situations. Many people enjoy a sip of hot tea in their warm homes during winter. While tea comes from China, the British love to drink it, too. 68 According to the UK Tea Council, 165 million cups of tea are drunk every single day in the UK.

69 It comes in many flavors (风味) around the world. One of the world's biggest festivals is a 16-day celebration of beer: the Oktoberfest in Munich, Germany. Around 6 million people from around the world go there to drink traditional beer each year.

But remember: drinking alcohol (酒精) is bad for young brains. 70

- A. People in China prefer alcohol to beer.
- B. In the past, only rich people could buy it.
- C. Here are some kinds of beer that people love.
- D. Let's have a look at the best drinks the world has to offer.
- E. Besides water, beer is one of the oldest drinks people have enjoyed.
