Almost every Chinese person can say the two lines of the famous poem, "Every grain on the plate comes from hard work." But sadly, many of us don't actually get the real meaning of these lines: Don't waste food.

A CCTV program, News One Plus One, reported that the food Chinese people throw away every year is well enough to feed 200 million people for a year.

Do we have too much food? Of course not. According to the UN World Food Program, there were 925 million hungry people around the world in 2015, especially in developing countries. Six million children die of hunger every year.

Chinese people are well known for being hospitable and generous. Many even feel that they lose face if their guests have eaten all the food on the table.

Luckily, plenty of people know the importance of saving food. Last November, Li Hong, a waitress in a restaurant in Nanjing, got fired (解雇) because she took some leftover food home for her son. Many people stood by her and criticized (批评) the waste of food.

What should we do in our daily lives to waste less food? Here are some tips:

1) Do not order too much in a restaurant. Only order as much as you want to eat. If you cannot eat all the food you ordered, take the rest of it home.

2) Don't be too picky (挑剔的) about food. Some food may not taste great, but your body needs it.

3) Keep an eye on what food you have at home. Don't buy too much, especially for vegetables and fruit.

() 52. According to the passage, we shouldn't waste food because _____.

- A. Many Chinese restaurants waste a lot of food.
- B. Many Chinese people are kind - hearted and ready to help the weak.
- C. Chinese people feel that they lose face if their guests eat all the food.
- D. Many Chinese people don't agree with the behavior of wasting food.

() 55. Which of the following is a good way to save food?

- A. Ordering more than you need at a restaurant.
