It's very important for teenagers to learn to do things independently. As for me, I can manage my studies on my own.

I have got into the habit of learning by myself. I always read the textbooks carefully before class and I take notes so that I can make the fullest use of my time in class. I like to finish my homework by myself and search for the answers online whenever I have problems. I spend most of my free time reading the latest news to develop myself further. However, my handwriting is not good enough and I'm a little weak in PE. I'm going to improve myself in the future.
