C

When two English people meet, their first words will be "How do you do?" or "How are you?" And after those words, they often talk about the weather.

If the day is fine, the sun is shining brightly, and there is no cloud in the sky, one of them will say, "It is a lovely day, isn't it?" or "It's warm today, isn't it?" The other one will say, "Yes, it is as warm as it was yesterday!" or "It's nice weather. I hope it will keep fine." If the day isn't fine and it seems to rain, one of them will say, "It isn't warm today, is it?" And the other one will say, "No, it isn't. I think we are going to have some more rain."

Why do people like to talk about the weather?

What is the weather like in England?

In spring: Mild, dry and sunny. Rainy, cloudy and warm.

In summer: Dry, cloudy and cool, rain and showers.

In autumn: Dry, sunny, fog early and late.

In winter: Strong winds, heavy rain, snow, cold.

The best seasons are spring and summer. The nearer the summer is, the warmer the sunshine is. The nearer the winter is, the colder the days are. In winter they have all kinds of weather. Sometimes it rains and sometimes it snows heavily, and they also have fog and frost. The two worst months in England are January and February. They have many cold wet days one after another.
