Whether you play e-sports (电子竞技) or not, you might have heard of IG (Invictus Gaming) , a Chinese e-sports club. On the night of Nov. 3, IG beat Europe's Fanatic Team and won the 2018 League of Legends (LOL) World Championship(冠军) in South Korea. It was the first time in the event's eight-year history that a Chinese club won.

The long-awaited victory showed how e-sports has progressed in China in recent years. A growing number of e-sports clubs have been founded in China in the last 10 years, and more young gamers are working as e-sports players.

However, becoming a skillful e-sports player is not all fun and comfortable. An e-sports player must be quick in action and able to bear hardship. They must also have a high APM which means how many actions they can do in a game within one minute. Skillful players can have an APM as high as 400.

There is a limit to how long they can play this well. Skillful players' ages are mostly from 17 to 25. After a certain age, they become slower.

E-sports players have to work hard every day. "We start to practice right after we get up in the morning and usually last until midnight," said Huang Fuquan, a player from IG. "There is at least 12 hours of work every day."

Many players practice so much that they get pains and arthritis (关节炎). They also face lots of problems. Some e-sports clubs even invite doctors to help their players.

So if you want to turn your love for gaming into a full-time job, ask yourself this first: Are you really prepared?

六、读写综合。(本大题分为 A、B 两部分，共 25 分)

A、回答问题 (共 5 小题，每小题 2 分，共 10 分)

请阅读下面这篇文章，根据所提供的信息，回答后面的问题，把答案写在答题卡指定的位置上。

If you are a student, you may be probably required by your teacher to read quickly in class. You have been taught to skim or scan, to look for key words so as to understand the main idea of the article and the important points in the article. Skimming and scanning is a good strategy (策略) when you are taking an exam, but today, many people skim and scan everything and they have lost the ability to enjoy reading.

In response to this, something called the “slow reading movement” has become popular. The idea is that people should shut off mobile phones for half an hour each day and enjoy the pleasure of reading a good book slowly! In many cities there are even slow reading clubs where members go to a cafe, not to discuss books, but to sit quietly with each other, drinking coffee and just reading.

Researchers have found that reading slowly, especially books of fiction, helps people concentrate, relax and think about what they are reading. It also helps people empathize(产生共鸣). This last point is important. When you read a novel slowly, you get to understand the character emotions and to see the world through their eyes

In your classroom, you have learned to read fast. Outside of the classroom, you should try to learn to read slowly. You may be surprised at how much you enjoy it.

76. Where may you be probably required by your teacher to read quickly?

77. What's is a good strategy for reading when we are taking an exam?

78How long should .people shut off mobile phones each day to enjoy the pleasure of reading a good book slowly?
