Passage 3

What do you usually do in your free time? Do you watch short videos on some apps? According to the China Internet Network Information Center, the number of short video users reached 773 million (百万) in March, 2020. That is, about 86% of all Chinese Internet users are watching or making short videos, or both! If you say short videos are only popular in China, you are wrong. TikTok has more than 800 million users around the world.

Many users like short videos. They say the videos not only make them relax, but also teach them useful skills (技能). "I love watching Lao Qiao's short videos on my phone," Francis, one of the short video users, says. "Lao Qiao is a famous cook and his videos are my favorite ones. From his videos, people can learn how to make Shanxi noodles in no time at all." However, quite a few people think short videos are not that good. "There are many other ways to relax, like watching movies, reading books and playing sports," they say. "All of them are more meaningful to people."

What's more, if people start watching the short videos, they can hardly stop. There are always new ones waiting for them, so they always spend hours on them. Some educators say people should not spend much time on short videos. "Most of them are just for fun," they say. "They don't teach people to think or to improve themselves. It's not good for the people, and not good for society (社会), either."

- ( ) 29. From the first paragraph, we know that ____.
- A. children around the world like watching short videos

When Birute Mary Galdikas was in the second grade, she wanted to be an explorer (探险家). "I wanted to go to the rain forests and learn about orangutans (猩猩)," she said.

Orangutans live in the rain forests of two islands in Southeast Asia. Galdikas studied the animals in their home.

About one hundred years ago, there were about 230,000 orangutans. However, today, there are only about 50,000. Why does the population of the orangutans become so smaller? One reason is that people cut too many trees. Another reason is that people hunt (打猎) too many orangutans.

In September, the governments from many countries promised to stop cutting down the rain forests by 2030. That would help orangutans and other animals that live in the rain forests.

Galdikas says people should help orangutans and other animals. We are not the only living things in the world. The animals are our friends and we should live with them in peace.

53. What did Galdikas want to be when she was in the second grade?

54. Do orangutans live in Southeast Asia?

55. How many orangutans are living in the world now?

56. What did the governments promise to do?

57. What does Galdikas think people should do?
