To The Most Beautiful People

By the Youth

When we were scared, sad and helpless,
you gave us courage, warmth and hopes.

When we had to stay at home
to keep away from the illness,
you, workers, helped us buy living things;
Leaving your children behind,
you worked in the neighborhood every day,
you never complained but smiled the whole day.

When we needed all kinds of materials,
you, drivers, drove them there without thinking twice;
Running on the streets, between the cities,
you made sure things went well as usual.

When we had coughs or fevers,
you, doctors and nurses, tried your best to
save our lives;
Looking after the patients in the hospital day
and night,
you never gave up until the sick got well.

There are many people doing jobs in silence;
There are many people giving hands without telling their names.
Thanks for your hard work and selflessness.
You're the heroes of the times.
You're the most beautiful in our hearts.
We love you!

China has accepted western fashion and technology as it has developed these years, but a lot of young people are turning to the past for their clothes choices and putting on traditional “hanfu”.

As the government encourages the renaissance(复兴) of traditional culture, hanfu is getting more and more popular with the teenagers. Every year, we can enjoy different hanfu shows around the cities. These shows bring us back to Han dynasty. We learn more about the history, culture and beauty from them.

Hanfu hasn't been in the same style since Han dynasty. However, this kind of clothes has something in common. They all have large soft robes(袍子) with sleeves that hang down to the knees, so the hands can't be seen.

In modern China, the hanfu lovers are from history fans, cartoon fans to clothes fans.

“Clothes are the basic part of culture, so both the traditional clothes and modern clothes play the same role in culture,” said Zhang Jun, a famous reporter. “If the people and the country do not even understand our traditional clothes or don't wear them, how can we talk about other important parts of our culture?”

53. What clothes does the passage talk about?

54. What does the underlined word “sleeves” mean?

- A. 衣领 B. 纽扣 C. 拉链 D. 衣袖

55. Hanfu is getting more and more popular because _____.

- A. China has developed in recent years B. the government encourages traditional culture
C. China has accepted western fashion D. China has accepted western technology

56. According to Zhang Jun, he thinks _____.

- A. it's not necessary for us to wear hanfu B. hanfu isn't so important as modern clothes
C. clothes are not the part of culture D. clothes help us understand our culture better

D

Curiosity (好奇心) is part of human nature. Children are known for wanting answers to many questions. Books and TV shows often depend on curiosity. People keep reading or watching because they want to find out what happens. But curiosity also provides many advantages.

Learning is the easiest if you have a real desire (渴望) for knowledge. Curiosity can create that desire when you want an answer to the questions. Many of history's greatest discoveries were made by curious people. People wondered how things worked and how work could be done more effectively. Thanks to their curiosity, people now know far more about the world. Even if you don't plan to be an inventor or researcher, curiosity can still help you in the classroom. If you develop the joy of learning, classes will become more fun. Even if you're no longer a student, curiosity will make you knowledgeable and thus a good worker.

What do you do if you're not already curious? Luckily, curiosity is a skill that can be improved. If you act like you're curious, you'll quickly start to actually feel curious. Often, the more you learn about a topic, the more interesting it becomes. As you learn about a topic, find information from as many ways as possible. Read books, listen to lectures and ask questions. Don't always get information in the same way. Instead, learn to appreciate the facts that different people know and ask a lot of questions. Remember, everyone knows something and makes the other person happy by sharing their knowledge.

57. In the passage, curiosity is a _____.

- A. new discovery
- B. great invention
- C. famous creation
- D. natural ability

58. According to the passage, curiosity can _____.

- A. make the class interesting
- B. make your job difficult
- C. create more stories in history
- D. develop a new kind of classroom

59. Which can be helpful to improve your curiosity?

- A. Asking different people questions.
- B. Showing others your knowledge.
- C. Getting the information in the same way.
- D. Not acting like you're curious if you're not.

60. What's the main idea of the passage?

- A. Share knowledge in the classroom.
- B. Curiosity is a skill that can be improved.
- C. Be curious and try to improve your curiosity.
- D. Curiosity can make the other person happy.

IX. 任务型阅读 (共 5 小题, 每小题 2 分, 计 10 分)

阅读短文, 并按要求完成 66-70 题。

We all enjoy the colors of autumn leaves. Did you ever wonder how and why a leaf changes its colors? Where do the yellows and oranges come from? To answer those questions, we first have to understand what leaves are and what they do.

Leaves are the world's food factories. Plants take water from the ground through their roots and take CO₂ from the air. Plants use sunlight to turn water and CO₂ into glucose (葡萄糖), a kind of a sugar. Plants use it as food for energy and growth.

A chemical called "chlorophyll (叶绿素)" in the leaves gives plants their green color. As summer ends and autumn comes, the days get shorter and shorter, and trees "know" it's time to begin getting ready for winter.

During winter, there is not enough sunlight or water. Trees rest during this time and live on the food they store during the summer. They begin to shut down their food-making factories. As the green chlorophyll disappears from the leaves, we begin to see yellow and orange leaves.

The bright reds and purples we see in leaves are made mostly in autumn. In some trees, like maples (枫树), sunlight and the cool nights of autumn turn the glucose in the leaves into a red color. So we can enjoy the beautiful red leaves during autumn.

66、67 题完成句子; 68 题简略回答问题; 69 题找出并写第二段的主题句; 70 题将文中画线句子译成汉语。

66. Plants use sunlight to turn _____ into glucose.
