Social Practice Activities

Working on a farm

Every bit of food we eat comes from hard work. To help students better understand this, the No.4 Middle School holds an activity.

Under the hot sun, hundreds of students go to a field to experience farming. With the help of others, they learn how to pick vegetables and water chestnuts. They also help wash the food and bring it to a farmer's house. "It's a good chance for us to learn how farmers grow our food and value their work," says Liu Yi, a student who takes part in the activity. "We should develop the habit of saving food."

Helping out at a store

You might read and buy books in bookstores. But what about helping to run a bookstore? A Xinhua Bookstore recently holds a "Young Store Manager" activity. Many students take part in it.

At the store, the students learn how to organize books, as well as help people find the books they're looking for.

"It's a good way for us to learn more about the daily work of a bookstore and the meaning of a labor," a student who takes part in the activity writes on Ten cent Homepage.

- ( ) 40. Which is NOT the social practice activity below?

- ( ) 42. What do the students never do at the bookstore according to the passage?
A. Help people find the books they're looking for.                                      B. Organize books.
C. Shout at the people in the bookshop.                                      D. Help to run a bookstore.

C

Anne's clothes were very strange. There were lots of freckles on her face. And her hair was red. "Well, you're not pretty," Mrs. Rachel said. "You're very skinny and plain. Look at your freckles. And your hair is as red as carrots."

Anne's face became redder than her hair!

"I hate you," screamed Anne. "I hate you! I hate you! I hate you! How dare you call me skinny and plain! You are a very rude woman."

"What a temper!" said Mrs. Rachel.

"Anne, go to your room. Stay there until I come up," said Marilla. She was very shocked.

The next morning, Matthew went to Anne's room. "I think you should apologize (道歉) to Mrs. Lynde," he said. "Will you do that for me?"

Anne thought about this. "All right," she said. "I'll apologize."

Marilla and Anne drove over to Mrs. Rachel's house. Anne knelt at Mrs. Rachel's feet. "Oh, Mrs. Rachel. I am so very sorry," said Anne. "It was very bad of me to get so angry because you told the truth. Mrs. Rachel, please forgive (原谅) me."

"Stand up, child," said Mrs. Rachel. "I forgive you. I was a little too honest. Now, go to into the garden and pick a few flowers for yourself."

On their way home, Anne said to Marilla, "I apologized well, didn't it?"

"You did apologize well," said Marilla.

"I love Green Gables already," said Anne. "No place seemed like home before. Oh, Marilla, I'm so happy."

( ) 43. What did Mrs. Rachel think of Anne?

A. She was polite and cute.

B. She was fat and ugly.

C. She was plain and in a bad temper.

There are so many kinds of hobbies. The most popular hobbies in our country are as follows:

Collecting hobbies

We can collect a lot of things. Usually people collect the stamps, postcards or coins. Some people collect unusual things like old cars, old motorbikes or other interesting things, which could be very expensive.

Art hobbies

Some like going to the theatre, concert (音乐会) and opera. Many students also like painting, writing and poetry. There are many clubs—such as singing, dancing, etc.

Sports games

Many students are members of a sports club—basketball, volleyball or swimming.

Other hobbies

The other popular hobby is playing computer games, but it is not so good for your eyes and your mind. Many people like to spend their free time reading books, magazines and newspapers. Some people like listening to music better.

Many students think that hobbies are very important for everybody. A man would be very poor without a hobby and would not be pleased.

No matter in summer or winter, holiday time means travel. A few years ago, some people moved from California with their birds. Travelling with birds is a very unusual experience. But everything can go well with a little planning.

There are some good tips for you.

★ The first thing you have to decide is to choose a comfortable cage. It is neither too small nor too big, and can be put into the car easily.

★ Do not put the cage in the front seat. The airbag can easily broke any cage and kill the birds inside. We can hold the cage with a seatbelt (座位安全带) in a car.

★ When you stop at the hotels during the trip, you must put lots of newspapers under the cage to help keep the hotel clean.

★ If your travel plans take you to areas with hot weather, remember that the car will become very hot in a short time in the sun. Never leave your birds in the car alone.

Travelling with birds can be stress-free, and a little planning can make it a pleasant experience.
