The Hollies are a British rock group. They once sang, "All I need is the air 31 I breathe." The song could have been about air plants. There are more than 650 types of air plants. All of them can grow 32 soil(泥土).

Air plants get all the water and what else they need through their leaves. They use their roots only for fixing 33 into rocks, trees and the ground.

Air plants are easy to grow. They are perfect for those who don't have much time 34 for their houseplants. However, there are still a few rules when growing air plants. One of 35.

things is air! Fresh and clean air keeps your plants happy. While they 36 "air plants", they still need water, fertilizer(肥料) and light to live. Air plants need a little water two to three times a week. They need nutrients(营养) weekly- that is to say, they 37 be fertilized once in several days. Enough sunlight is very necessary, too. 38 air plants love warm weather, most of them need protection from full sun. If taken good care of, they 39 for over ten years.

Air plants can clean air and they are 40 made into simple art at home, for they can grow almost everywhere, except in soil or water. They are often placed in glass containers and hung up in the rooms. Each air plant will flower once in its lifetime. Its flowering can last from some days to many months.

These days, reading the news on the Internet isn't as easy as before. Many things are there to trick people. So, it's hard to get the right information. Sometimes, people can't even tell real news stories from advertisements. The best way to fix it is to become smart while surfing on the Internet. Here are some tips to help you.

First, check the website. Make sure it's from a real newspaper or news magazine. You can trust those to have real news. Second, look at the story itself. It should have a headline that tells you what the story is mainly about. There should be another line under that. That's the byline(署名行), and it has the writer's name and the date of the story. If that isn't there, the story might not be true.

Stories without byline may look like real news stories. Sometimes, they have the words of "sponsored content(推广内容)". That means the information is paid by somebody to appear on purpose. In other words, they are advertisements. Companies use them to attract readers to read the stories and buy their products.

Sponsored content fools many people. So do some pictures and videos. Those can also be advertisements and take you to other websites. If the pictures are too crazy to be true, they're probably fake(伪造的). News sites also have different parts for different kinds of news. If the stories are in the opinion part, be careful. Opinions are not facts, and the information may just be the writer's thoughts and feelings.

Remember, you can avoid all these tricks by being Internet smart.

- ( ) 56. How does the writer start the passage?
A. By telling a story. B. By comparing two facts.
C. By describing the situation. D. By giving an example
- ( ) 57. The underlined word "headline" in Paragraph 2 means _____ in Chinese.
A. 正文 B. 标题 C. 插图 D. 排版
- ( ) 58. Which of the following information online might be fake?
A. The news that has the writer's whole name and the date.
B. The news story that includes a headline and a byline.
C. Advertisements with crazy pictures and videos.
D. The stories in the opinion part on a news site.
- ( ) 59. Sponsored content fools many people because _____.
A. you have to pay for it before you read
B. it doesn't have a headline or a byline
C. it could be some writers' personal opinions
D. it may trick you into reading advertisements
- ( ) 60. The passage mainly tells us _____.
A. how to get right information online
B. what useful things we can do on the Internet
C. where we can get real news on the Internet
D. why we have to avoid all tricks online

Four years ago, my mother gave birth to a brother for me when I was ten. Since he was born, I have learned a lot from getting 66 with him.

67 he was born, I almost became a babysitter. I would make faces and sing to him when he was crying. Sometimes I even carried him 68 in our garden, walking here and there to refresh him when my parents were busy. My parents often 69 me happily, "As an elder brother, you've looked after your younger brother well."

I have got happiness from sharing. Before he was born, I was 70 only child in my family. I could get 71 I wanted from my parents and get their whole love. I was a "Little Emperor".

But now, as long as I get something good, I will 72 it with my younger brother. I remember when he was three, he enjoyed playing Rubik cubes(魔方), so I bought 73 for him with my lucky money. When he got the toy, he was 74 happy that he hugged me and said, "Brother, I love you!"

Thanks for spending these years together with my family. It has taught me what responsibility(责任) means and what friendship means. Not only should I look after myself, but also I should care for my 75 and my friends.

六、读写综合(本大题分A、B两部分, 共25分)

A. 回答问题(本题有5小题, 每小题2分, 共10分)

请阅读关于新冠肺炎的文章, 根据所提供的信息, 回答后面的问题, 把答案填写在答题卡指定的位置

上。

Coronavirus Disease 2019(COVID-19) broke out in Wuhan, China in December in 2019. The new virus had infected(感染) up to more than 70, 000 people by mid-February in 2020.

The virus spread across China and abroad as millions of people travelled for the Lunar New Year holiday.

At the end of January, about 56 million people in Wuhan and surrounding(周边的) cities were ordered to stay home, while several countries banned(禁止) arrivals from China and advised their citizens to leave.

The virus started in an animal and spread to humans. It can make people sick, usually with a mild(轻度) to moderate(中度) upper respiratory tract illness(上呼吸道疾病), similar to a common cold. The infected people usually have a runny nose, cough, sore throat, possibly a headache and maybe a fever, which can last for a couple of days. For the elderly and the very young, there's a chance the virus could cause a much more serious illness and even death.

According to the Chinese Center for Disease Control and Prevention, the virus can be spread by touching something that an infected person has touched and then touching your mouth, nose or eyes and also handling a patient's waste. So the best and safest way to protect ourselves is to stay home and avoid crowds and contacting with others.

76. When did COVID-19 break out?

77. How many people had infected with COVID-19 by mid-February in 2020?

78. Why did the virus spread across China and abroad so quickly?

79. Who may have more chance of having a serious illness after being infected?

80. What is best and safest way to protect ourselves?
