When I was twelve years old, my family lived next to a forest. Every evening, mockingbirds(知更鸟) would come and rest in the trees and sing. I enjoyed __31__ singing so much that I decided to catch a young bird. In this way, I could hear it sing for me every day.

I finally managed __32__ one and put it in a cage. At first, the bird was very frightened, so it fluttered (扑腾) in its new home all the time. Several days later, it was used __33__ in this new home.

The next day, the little bird’s mother flew to the cage with __34__ food. The baby bird looked very happy and ate everything that the mother brought to it. I was so happy to see this, for the mother knew how to take care of her baby __35__ than me.

But the next morning, I found it died. I was terribly __36__ and cried at once. I didn’t know what happened.

Arthur Wayne, my father’s friend, was a famous ornithologist(鸟类学家). She __37__ my father at that time. __38__ she knew the whole thing, she explained to me, “If a mother mockingbird finds her baby __39__ in a cage, she will bring it poisonous(有毒的) berries. She thinks it’s better for her baby to die than to lose freedom.”

Since then I __40__ any living animal in a cage. All living things have a right to live free.

I know a Catherine who is smart, educated and interesting. But I avoid her because she never __41__ complaining(抱怨)! For years, I fought against my feelings, because I really admire her, but I’ve found I just can’t be her friend. Her world is full of “buts...”. The trip would have been nice, but the drive was too long. The food was good, but the light of the restaurant was too __42__. The hotel was too hot, but the bed hurt her back and the room service was too slow. Her complaints were __43__ changing me. Weeks ago, my best friend Daisy was listening to me complaining about Catherine __44__ she just became really angry. “Either break up with her, or leave me alone.” She shouted at me, “I’m tired of __45__ to your complaining.” Her honesty surprised me, and I began to keep myself away from Catherine. Later, I did __46__ her.

Now I try to remain happy and positive(积极的) about life, and find friends of the same. There’s been scientific research lately. It shows that people who find __47__ to be thankful for their lives are happier, and I believe that is true. Endless complaining seems to control your life if you let it come into your brain. And too much complaining will make your life __48__.

Some people take “gratitude(感激之情) walks” every day, where they __49__ their lives in a positive way. By developing a grateful attitude, you can be turned away from what’s troubling you, and __50__ what makes you happy. Then you will have a beautiful life.

There are usually few things people want to do less than housework. But while doing the dishes and cleaning the house seem like boring things, a new study has found just how important they are to our health and happiness.

In fact, scientists now believe cleaning the house is more important to mental and physical health than other things. Researchers at Case Western Reserve University say doing housework is helpful because of the exercise it takes to get the daily job done, which in turn influences mental health.

Dr. Kathy Wright and a research team at the university's Frances Payne Bolton School of Nursing wanted to find out how education, environment and health behaviors influence the elders' health. The 337 persons taking part in the study, from 65 to 94 years old, had to have at least one chronic(慢性的) illness which prevented them from doing at least one basic daily task, such as bathing and dressing.

Dr. Wright said she was surprised to learn that doing housework influenced their mental and physical health more than other things, because a clean environment is helpful in treating some illnesses. The study proved what Dr. Wright has seen in her visits: people living in a dirty environment seemed less satisfied than those in a place that was neat and tidy. The study shows how important it is for the elders with chronic illnesses to do some housework. Dr. Wright hopes they will continue physical activities.

Now we know doing housework is so important to us, so there is no excuse not to do it. Let's get it started right now.

- () 56. From the first paragraph, we can know _____.
A. most people don't like doing housework
B. some people are too busy to do housework
C. people do less housework than they used to
D. most people don't know how to keep healthy and happy
- () 57. When Dr. Wright and the team did the research, they _____.
A. paid the elders quite a lot of money
B. carried out the research in the university
C. tried some treatments for the elders' illnesses
D. chose those who have at least one chronic illness
- () 58. The underlined word "neat" might mean _____ in Chinese.
A. 凌乱的 B. 干净的 C. 肮脏的
- () 59. Which of the following sentence is true?
A. Doing housework influenced the elders' health most.
B. The 337 persons who took part in the study were healthy.
C. People living in a dirty environment were satisfied with their lives.
D. The elders with chronic illnesses must do housework to keep healthy.
- () 60. The passage mainly tells us _____.
A. how to improve mental and physical health
B. people's different ideas about housework
C. the advantages of doing housework
D. the best way to do housework

六、读写综合。（本大题为 A、B 两部分，共 25 分）

A. 请阅读下面有关最喜欢的节日的文章，根据所提供的信息，用完整的句子回答问题。

Some people say that western festivals are getting more and more popular in China. As a result, Chinese traditional festivals are being neglected(忽视). The two stories below tell you what is going on with people's favorite festival.

I moved to Shaoguan ten years ago, and my hometown is a small village in Hebei Province. When I was a child, the Spring Festival was the biggest event of a year. I loved this festival best because there was a lot of delicious food to eat. Now things are different. We celebrate not only Chinese festivals but also many western festivals like April Fool's Day, Halloween and so on. The Spring Festival is still my favorite festival, but with so many festivals to celebrate now, it is not as special as it used to be.

Jack, Shaoguan

I am a 15-year-old middle school student in Guangzhou. If you ask me what my favorite festival is, I think it is Christmas. In the school, most of my classmates get excited about this festival. Usually my friends and I would start to plan the activities two weeks before Christmas Day, and we may hold a party or sing songs together. This year there will be a band show in an outdoor square. We are all looking forward to it. Also we would prepare each other a Christmas card on that day. My parents can't understand why Christmas is so popular among young people. I don't know how to say. But my friends and I really have fun in it, and it is out of fashion if we don't celebrate Christmas.

Lily, Guangzhou

76. How long has Jack been in Shaoguan?

77. What's Jack's favorite festival?

78. When do Lily and her friends usually start to plan the Christmas activities?

79. Where are Lily and her friends going to hold the band show this year?

80. According to Lily, why is Christmas so popular among young people?
