Spain is famous for its tomato festival, called La Tomatina. It happens in a small town Hanoi on the last Wednesday of August every year. During the festival there are all kinds of activities, but the most exciting part is the tomato fight. It takes place at the end of long celebration (庆祝). You are encouraged to throw tomatoes in the fight. There are many stories about how the festival began. One of the stories goes that during the 1940's, some friends started a tomato fight, while another story is about a local band. Anyway, everyone in Bunol seems to have a different story. Before the tomato fight, there are parades (游行), musical bands, street parties and so on.

On the day of the fight, shopkeepers (店主) close their windows and doors in order to keep away from the tomato fight. At the same time, thousands of tourists and local people come to the town square together. Then large trucks (卡车) full of tomatoes arrive. From the back of the large trucks, a great town band start to throw tomatoes at others. Then the crowds fight back, throwing the tomatoes at anything and anyone. Soon the streets are in the sea of red tomato juice.

Everyone is supposed to (应该) obey (遵守) some rules: You must squash (压烂) the tomato before throwing it and you are allowed to throw nothing but tomatoes.

It is usually over in less than half an hour. Everyone then sets off to the river to clear up. Sounds like fun!

- () 46. The most exciting activity of the festival is _____.
A. the tomato fight B. street parties C. the musical band show
- () 47. The stories about how the festival began are _____ according to the passage.
A. very famous B. very sad C. quite different

C. Rules of the Tomato Festival
- () 50. Which of the following is not true according to the passage?
A. The festival happens on the last Wednesday of August every year.
B. Everyone is supposed to obey some rules on the fight day.
C. The fight day usually lasts more than half an hour.

The world today has become a small place. Thanks to the means of communication and transportation. Today, people have moved out of their own countries, to other lands, in search of better lives. If you look at any large companies (公司), you will find the workers come from different countries and cultures, working together in it. This has made one thing quite apparent - If someone wants to be successful today, he has to be a global citizen (全球公民), someone wants to know all kinds of cultures, and he has to know the people who is working or traveling. And, the first thing that a person trying to know about a foreign culture has to do is to learn the language.

There are more than six thousand seven hundred languages in the world today. It is impossible to learn all of them. Also, many of these languages are spoken by less than thousand people! So, there is no point in learning such languages as their utility (功用) is very low. So, a person who wants to study a foreign language should choose any one of the most useful languages to learn.

- () 51. "The world today has become a small place." means "_____".
A. The earth is getting smaller and smaller
B. The population of the world is growing fast
C. Communication and transportation are developing fast
- () 52. The underline word "apparent" may mean "_____" in China.
A. 显然的 B. 可能的 C. 必要的
- () 53. If you want to know about a foreign culture, you must _____.
A. learn a foreign language B. be a global citizen
C. have some foreign workmates
- () 54. There are _____ languages in the world today.
A. less 6,700 B. more than 670 C. over 6,700
- () 55. Which of the following is WRONG?
A. You can meet people from many countries in a large company.
B. It's impossible for a person to learn all the languages.
C. If you want to learn a foreign language, you should choose the most useless one.

阅读下面一篇短文，然后回答问题。

Little Bob was born in a poor village in New York. His father has been ill for a long time and can not do any housework at all. Bob's mother is very busy with the housework besides working. Bob understands how hard his mother works, and he always helps her with some housework. Though he has too much housework to do, his mother is still very strict with him. There are some family rules for Bob.

He must take good care of his things in his room and keep them tidy. If he makes them dirty, he must clean them up at once.

He is allowed to（被允许） keep a parrot, a cat and a dog, but he must feed them often and give them water by himself every day. After school, he is allowed to play with his pets for a short time.

As for his clothes, he isn't allowed to choose his own clothes. When his clothes are dirty, he should wash them by himself.

On school nights, he can't go out alone and only on weekends, he is allowed to watch TV.

Sometimes Bob hates the rules so much that he wants to break them, but he thinks the rules his mother has made are good for him, so he faithfully obeys them.

61. Where was Bob born?

62. What should Bob do when his things are dirty?

63. What is Bob allowed to do after school?

64. Is Bob allowed to choose his own clothes?

65. When is Bob allowed to watch TV?
