Sadness and happiness are often talked about by people in their spare time. Most people want themselves to be happy forever, but few know how to find happiness. Others say if you own lots of money and success, you will be happy. However, money and success alone do not bring lasting happiness. A famous Greek thinker, Aristotle, said, "Happiness depends upon ourselves." That's to say, we make our own happiness. Here are a few suggestions to help you be happier.

The first secret of happiness is to enjoy the simple things in life. Too often, we spend so much time thinking about the future. For example, getting into college or getting a good job, which we fail to enjoy the present. You should enjoy life's simple pleasures, such as reading a good book, listening to your favorite music, or spending time with close friends. People who have several close friends often live happier and healthier lives.

Another secret to living a happy life is to be active. Many people go dancing or play sports. People can forget about their problems and only think about the activities. Finally, many people find happiness in helping others.

Studies show that people feel good when they spend their time helping others. If you want to feel happier, do good things for someone. You can help a friend with his or her studies, go shopping or help out with some things around the house for an elderly person.

If you do above, you will be happy.

- B. If you want to feel happier, you can go shopping for an elderly person.
- C. Spending so much time thinking about the future can enjoy the present.
- D. Active person may live a happier life than inactive person.

29. Which of the following is not mentioned in the passage?

- A. Reading a good book
- B. Travelling to a foreign country
- C. Playing a sport.
- D. Spending time with close friends

30. What's the main idea of this passage?

- A. How to live a happy life.
- B. How to depend on ourselves.
- C. How to help the old people.
- D. How to get a good job.

C

Many Chinese people will wonder what presents to get for their moms on Mother's Day, but not many know Mother's Day is actually a festival from overseas.

Mother's Day originated in America during the early 20th century. The festival spread to China as early as the 1980s and was widely accepted.

Why did a foreign festival become popular in China? In fact, Chinese traditional culture has always encouraged filial devotion to parents. There are many stories which show filial respect in ancient China. For example, the story of "Taste Liquid Medicine for Mother" tells us the filial virtue of Emperor Wen of the Western Han dynasty. His mother had been sick for three years. He often stayed up by her bedside and cared for her day and night. He tasted the liquid medicine first before she drank it. Also, mother love is a repeated subject in Chinese ancient poems like "Song of the Parting Son" by Meng Jiao, a poet of the Tang dynasty. Now this poem is still a must in the school textbooks. China are brought up with the education of filial devotion.

On special days, people often use roses or forget-me-nots to express love. Carnations are considered as the perfect flowers for mothers around the world, but few know that China has its own for mothers the tiger lily.

Love for mothers can have different ways of expression. What matters most is love, not the festival itself. What mothers truly want is perhaps just a simple expression of love from their children.

who, like, child, though, protect, you, ask, encourage, fall, complete

A female swimming athlete once set a goal for herself. She decided to swim across the English Channel before she retired (退休). If she could succeed, she would be the first person in the world 56 did it. On that day, she jumped into the sea without any hesitation (犹豫) and swam towards the opposite bank without any 57. In the journey, she faced heavy fog, heavy rain and heavy waves. 58 she was tired, she still carried on swimming. But in the end, she gave up. And she didn't know that the opposite bank was only one mile away when she gave up.

Later she was 59 about the reason. And she said, "The reason why I gave up is that I could not see the place which I was going to reach 60." It was a great pity that one mile broke her dream.

Since we were young 61, too many success stories have been telling us about courage and persistence (坚持). But they never told us where to find 62 and persistence. You can only have courage when you know where your goal is. You can only manage to persist when you know where your goal is.

And that's because when you know where your goal is, you can only prepare 63 well in the mind. Courage and persistence never 64 from the sky. They come from weighing between input and output.

A life without goal is 65 a ship without a compass. It goes nowhere. There is no courage or persistence in a life without goals.

第二节 阅读短文,根据语篇要求填空,使短文通顺、意思完整。每空限填一词。

Like most teenagers, I have my own worries (66) secrets. I'm not very confident. Whenever my teacher asks us a question, I'm afraid to answer. What's more, I'm worried about not doing well in life. I worry that others will laugh (67) me and look down on me. I even think I have (68) most worries. However, I want my parents to feel proud of me, so I never tell them about my worries. Now, I (69) like to open my heart to them. I hope they can talk with (70) and help with my trouble. I do hope we can become friends in the future.

五、补全对话(每句2分,共10分)

- A: Hello, Jim. You look worried. 71?
 B: My friend Jack invited me to his birthday party this Saturday.
 A: That sounds great. What are you worrying about?
 B: I don't know much of the customs and manners in America. 72?
 A: Sure.
 B: Should I arrive on time?
 A: 73. Americans think it's important to be on time. It's impolite to arrive late.
 B: 74?
 A: You can buy some flowers or a small gift. Some flowers or a small gift is enough to express yourself. Don't buy anything too personal.
 B: I know. 75.
 A: You're welcome.
