There is a club that only smart people can join. Many people join it, because they want to spend more time with other smart people.

One night, the club members (成员) are having a dinner party in a big room of a restaurant. They talk and enjoy their food. One of them thinks that his salad doesn't taste delicious, so he finds a salt (盐) shaker (佐料瓶) and adds some salt. But it is sugar (糖). The members find that the salt on the table is in the sugar shaker, and the sugar is in the salt shaker. There are no other empty (空的) bottles. What can they do? They talk about the problem for a long time, but there's no way to make it right.

They ask for the waiter (服务员) and tell him about it. The waiter just looks at the shakers and says, "It's easy." He then takes off the labels (标签) of both shakers and switches (互换) them with each other. The room quickly becomes quiet.

Sometimes we make problems more difficult than they should be. It is good to look back and see if there's an easy way first.

Imagine you're enjoying dinner with your friends in a nice restaurant. You're having a great time when suddenly you hear a phone ringing at the table next to you. A man takes out his phone and starts talking about problems he's having with his girlfriend. He keeps talking for almost ten minutes! How will you feel? Maybe you'll feel uncomfortable (不舒服), but you can do nothing about it.

This happens all the time, not only in restaurants, but also on buses, at the cinema, everywhere!

Cell phones are useful in our daily lives. But be careful not to be a noisy user and disturb others. You should think about your manner (举止). Here are a few rules.

Follow the rules! When you're in public (公共的) places and see a sign that says "Turn off cell phones", don't use your phone. If you are allowed, speak softly (轻声地) for a short time and try to keep away from other people.

Phone off! Never make calls in a theater, when you are watching a movie or enjoying a concert.

Pay attention! Talking on a cell phone while driving is dangerous. And watch out where you're going when you're walking down the street and talking on the phone.

As more people use cell phones, things are going to get worse. So, the next time you're getting ready to make a call, stop and think about the people around you.

11. In Paragraph 1, the writer mainly tells us _____.
  - A. an example of bad manners
  - B. how bad phones can be to people
  - C. why people can't use phones in a restaurant
  - D. what the man talks about on the phone with his friend

  - D. 利用
13. According to the passage, we should NOT make calls _____.
  - A. in a restaurant
  - B. on a bus
  - C. on the street
  - D. in a theater
14. When you have to talk on the phone in public, you should follow the following rules EXCEPT (除了) _____.
  - A. using earphones (耳机)
  - B. making short talks
  - C. talking quietly
  - D. keeping away from people
15. We can learn that _____ from the passage.
  - A. people can't use cell phones in public places
  - B. cell phones lead to (导致) people's bad relationship (关系)
  - C. public manners are important in our lives
  - D. cell phones have become the most useful thing in our lives

D

Mrs. Hands teaches Jill and his twin sister Gina to care for (照顾) others. _____ 16
"Let's set up a new club at school called 'The Care Club!'" Gina says. Jill thinks that it is a great idea. _____ 17

One day they help a little girl at their school learn to read. _____ 18 They love helping others and they are having so much fun doing it as well. Their parents don't know what happen to the girls.

After a few days, some other kids at school want to join the club. 19
Everyone in the club has to promise (承诺) to show love to others. They have meetings every week. They plan who they will help and how they will do it. Everyone gives away some money each week so that they can buy flowers or cards for sick people in hospitals to cheer them up.
