Some families live in small towns, and other people live in big cities. What happens when a family moves from a small town to a big city?

Joe's family live in a big house with a garden in a small town. The house is on a quiet street with many trees. There's only one school in the town. Joe's family usually walk to some near places because the town is so small.

Joe's mother gets a new job in the city, so the family moves there. Now they live in a tall building. There's no garden. They drive cars every day because the city is too large. They can also go by bus. But the streets are busy. At weekends, Joe is free. He often reads books in the library and goes to the park. There's a large zoo. He can see many animals with his new friends.

Joe's life in the city is very different from the life in the small town. He sees more people. He goes to more places. But some things are the same. He is with his family. He still goes to school and helps his mother do housework.
