Peter: I use the Internet for anything I need to help me with my school work. I use the online dictionaries, encyclopedias (百科全书) and magazines. It's great because I can download pictures or articles and use them with my homework. It's very easy to use and it's free, so I like it.

Henry: I find the Internet is very good for shopping. I use it more and more for buying books and CDs, and I even bought some clothes over the Internet. The other thing I can do is to book holidays over the Internet. I booked a cheap flight once, it was very easy, and it was really good.

David: I use the Internet for games. I play chess with people all round the world. Last night I had a game with someone from Japan. I also download games from the Internet, so I can have any game I want.

Tony: Well, the main thing I use the Internet for is to e-mail. I usually write to my customers (客户) by e-mail, and my customers answer me by e-mail, too. We probably send and receive four or five hundred e-mails a month. But of course, I also use e-mail to keep in touch with friends and family. My daughter is in Australia and we send e-mails to each other every day.

D. Peter needs to pay for what he gets from the Internet.

B.

Who says you can't see the world if you stay at home? Virtual vacations let you travel the world without leaving your sofa. All you need is a VR headset(耳机).

Taking a virtual vacation is very simple. First, decide where you want to go and what you want to see. You can choose a place you have been in the past or a place you'd like to go. Maybe you feel like relaxing on a beautiful beach in Sanya. Perhaps you want to walk side by side with elephants in Africa...You can even take virtual space vacations!

The next step is to find a quiet place. Make sure you are away from all distractions. Then connect your VR headset to your computer or smartphone and put it on. Once you are sitting or lying comfortably alone, take five deep breaths to relax. Now you can begin your trip!

A VR headset gives users a special 3-D experience, making them feel as if they are walking around inside a virtual world.

Although a virtual vacation can last from just a few minutes to 20 minutes or more, you will feel refreshed after it.That's why it is as meaningful as a "real" vacation.

What to travel the world from the comfort of your home? Try virtual vacations!

- ( )54.What will the world be like in the future according to the first paragraph?

C.

One day Willie and his grandfather took me to a pretty house with a lawn at the front.

While Willie stayed with me, Farmer Thoroughgood went into the house. About ten minutes later he returned, with three ladies. They all looked at me and asked questions. The youngest lady, Miss Ellen, liked me very much.

"He has such a beautiful face!" she said. "I'm sure I'll like him. "

Farmer Thoroughgood said, "Well, try him: If you don't like him, send him back after six months."

They agreed and in the morning a smart-looking young man came for me. At first he looked pleased. But when he saw my knees he said to Farmer Thoroughgood.

"Sir, I'm surprised the ladies want a damaged horse."

"Well," said Farmer Thoroughgood, "Looks aren't everything, young man. This is a very good horse."

So the young man led me to my new home, put me in a comfortable stable ,fed me and left me alone. The next day, my new groom came into the stable. When he was cleaning my face, he said,

"This is just like the star that Black Beauty had. He's about the same height, and has one white foot too. It must be Black Beauty! Why, Beauty! Do you remember me? Little Joe Green, that almost killed you?"

I didn't remember him, for he was now a man with a beard and a man's voice. But I was sure he knew me and that he was Joe Green, and I was glad to see him again. I put my nose up to him, to say that we were friends. He looked very pleased.

"My old Beauty! I wish John Manly were here to see you."

In the afternoon Joe and Miss Ellen took me out with the cart. She was a good driver, Joe told her all about me. He said: "I'm sure this horse is Squire Gordon's old Black Beauty."

D

The cold wind blew strongly outside. Amaya was warm in her house, thinking about an article she'd read at school. The article was about kids who helped out their communities, and she thought it would be really cool to help her own town, Harvard.

The only problem was that she wasn't sure how to help. In the article, the kids had grown food for people who needed food, but it was winter. She couldn't start a garden. Amaya was deep in thought when her mum said it was time to go shopping.

As they drove along the road, Amaya saw a family walking on the sidewalk (人行道), wearing only light jackets. How cold they must be! That gave her an idea! She could collect winter coats, hats and gloves for people who needed them.

She shared her idea with her mum, who thought it was great. But how would they spread(传播) the idea to get plenty of winter clothing? Amaya decided to talk to her teacher because then she could share her idea with her classmates at least.

Ms Monroe agreed when Amaya talked about her idea. They decided to call the project Hats in Harvard. Then they wrote a letter explaining the project. Ms Monroe even said she could help Amaya talk to the headmaster about it, so they could get the whole school to join in it. They met with the headmaster during lunchtime. He was excited about the idea and said he would make sure copies of the letter went home with all the students.

They collected enough winter clothing in only one week. Then they left the clothes around two parks, so families who needed clothes could get them there. Three days later, Amaya and her mum went shopping again. She saw the same family that had given her the idea for Hats in Harvard. This time, though, the family looked nice and warm in some new coats, hats and gloves, Amaya felt warm in her heart, and was very glad she could help others.
