Isn't fast food delicious? Aren't fast food restaurants cool?... The answer to these questions is yes.

However, there are growing facts that fast food is one of the worst parts of modern life. And studies have shown that burgers and fried chicken, which we enjoy so much, can cause a lot of health problems.

In spite of (尽管) this, why are fast food restaurants so attractive (吸引人的)? The first and most important reason is that their service is fast. Their staff (员工) are friendly and very smart-looking in their clean and bright uniforms. Moreover, most fast food restaurants are near places that people always pass by. It is so easy to grab a burger and eat on the way to work.

Fast food is often so conveniently packed (包装方便) that it will not cause a mess even if you stand and eat it. Fast food restaurants are also very clean. A lot of clever ads (广告) have made them the coolest places in town, but none of them has ever told and will never tell you that too much fast food is not good for your health.

Such attractive places are selling junk food! Isn't it a pity? Is there a way to change the fast food restaurants into special places where you get the best possible, healthy and fresh food?

Well, why not?

As people realize the health problems that fast food causes, it is quite likely that fast food restaurants may go out of date. It may happen sooner or later.

Therefore, instead of resisting (抵制) fast food restaurants, a better idea may be to persuade (说服) them to change their menu! Fast food restaurants can be places to go to when you want to eat something that will be good for your body. If they could combine (结合) healthy food with their speed of service, delicious tastes and comfortable feelings, that will be the next best thing on the earth for the human beings!

The Beijing 2022 Winter Olympics took place between Feb 4 and 20. We would like to introduce you to the four disciplines (分项) of sports in the Games.

 Speed skating	It's a sport of racing on ice skates that started in the Netherlands. Organized international competition developed in the late 19 th century. It was included as a men's event in the first Winter Olympics in 1924. Women's speed-skating events were added in 1960. The competition took place from 5 February—19 February 2022.
 Short track speed skating	It's a skating competition that takes place on a 111.12m track(跑道) in a 60×30m ice rink(冰场). As it uses a shorter track than the traditional 400m track, it is often called short track. It tests the speed, skills and bravery of the competitors. The competition took place from 5 February—16 February 2022.
 Figure skating	Figure skating is both an art and a sport. It combines(结合) skating skills with dance movements. There are various kinds of figure skating, including freestyle, pairs, ice dance and team skating. It's one of the most popular winter sports of the Winter Olympics. The competition took place from 4 February—20 February 2022.
 Ice hockey	It's a game between two teams who wear skates and compete on an ice rink. Each team usually has six players. All team members have to pull together to win the game. With its speed and team spirit, ice hockey has become one of the most popular sports. The competition took place from 3 February—20 February 2022.

Nature is all around us. 76. _____ Usually, we say nature is anything that is natural, not made by people. Even if it is easier to find nature away from cities, it is possible to find natural places in cities. 77. _____

Why nature away from cities or in cities is important? There are many reasons. Plants clean the air and help take people’s minds off busy city life. Along with all of these good things, scientists have found other benefits of nature. 78. _____

One study involving children in the United States found that children who have many trees and plants near their houses felt happier than those who did not. Another study found that children who often see and touch nature do better on tests in school. 79. _____

How can science explain these benefits that nature has for children? Maybe part of the benefit comes from meeting other children. When a home has a lot of natural places around it (like yards or parks), children go to such places to play. While playing, they meet other children and often become friends. 80. _____ Scientists have also found that children who have the chance to play and relax are able to study better. This would explain how nature helps children do better on tests in school.

根据短文内容,把 A—E 五个句子填入文中空缺处,使短文意思通顺,内容完整。(5 分)

- A. This might explain why children who live near nature are happier and more kind.

B. These natural places have important benefits(好处)for people living in the city.

C. That is: nature can help children feel better and study better in school.

D. It is the sky, the ground, the mountains, the desert, seas, plants , animals and so on.

E. Other studies have shown that children who play in nature are more kind and healthier than others.

Tony Wheedle was the meanest kid at school. He was big, ugly, and huge—like a tree ! Tony liked to bother(干扰) the other students, especially the smart ones. For example, in class, he called their nicknames and chatted with them loudly so that the other students couldn’t listen clearly. After school, he chased his classmates and took their backpacks. Then, he put the backpacks and sometimes his classmates in a tree.

Tony hated studying, and never studied, so he got very bad grades, which made his parents very anxious. In his third year at junior high school, he had a problem. He was failing two subjects. He had to pass them both to graduate. However, he wasn’t able to achieve it on his own. One day , he had a good idea.

“Hey, Frank,” Tony said to a very smart student. “Come here.” “Please don’t hurt me,” Frank said as he shook with fear. Before that, Tony often hit him on his head. “Don’t worry, you big baby. Look, I need to pass maths and science, or I won’t graduate. So, congratulations. You’re my new tutor(家庭教师).” Frank had to agree. From then on, Tony went to Frank’s house after class each day. You know, Tony had a hard time with maths, and gradually, he took an interest in maths . And he actually found science more interesting. They did simple experiments(实验) with Frank’s chemistry set.

Tony started passing his tests, and his grades slowly got better. He passed both his subjects and graduated from junior high school. “Thanks for your help,” Tony said to Frank, “You know, I need a chemistry set. Where can I buy one ?“A store near house sells them. Come on, I’ll show you where it is.”

Frank and Tony became good friends. Tony stopped acting like a bully, and he even thought about becoming a scientist.

根据短文内容,回答问题(10 分)

- 81. Did Tony treat his classmates well or very badly at first ?
- 82. When did he have to pass the two subjects to graduate ?
- 83. Where did Tony study after school every day later ?
