Protect yourself from the infection of the Virus

Dear Lucy,

How's everything going? I'm so sorry to hear that the novel coronavirus (新冠病毒) is hitting your home town. Here are my suggestions for you.

First, never go to the crowded places. You'd better stay indoors as much as possible. Second, when you go out, you must wear a mask. It's very dangerous if you don't wear your mask. Third, wash your hands often and correctly with running water at least 15 seconds before eating, using the toilet, returning home from the outside. What's more, keep doing sports and improve your immune system. Finally, keep the shared places always having fresh air. Pay attention to your temperature.

I do hope these suggestions can be helpful for you.

Yours'
Li Hua

(三)听对话,选择最佳答案。

你将听到三段对话,请根据对话内容,选出每个问题的最佳答案,每段对话读两遍。请听第一段对话,回答第 11—13 小题。

W: What are you doing, Li Ming?

M: I'm sending an e-mail to my family in China.

W: Do you often miss your hometown?

M: Sometimes.

W: New York's Chinatown is not far from here. If we ride a bike, it will take us about 25 minutes to get there. And it will take us about 15 minutes to go by bus. There are lots of Chinese shops. Do you want to go there?

M: Yes. Are there Chinese restaurants in Chinatown? I really miss dumplings.

W: Yes, of course.

M: Great. Let's go there by bike.

请听第二段对话,回答第 14—16 小题。

W: What's that black thing? It looks strange.

M: It is an old machine.

W: What was it used for?

M: It was used for getting water from a river or a lake to the fields.

W: What is it made of?

M: It is made of wood. You can hardly see it now.

W: Oh, it's really precious.

M: Yes, it is. OK, now let's go to the next exhibition room. It's the biggest in the museum.

W: What are there in it?

M: There are many beautiful stones in it. You'll like them.

请听第三段对话, 回答第 17—20 小题。

M: Good afternoon, Mary! What did you do in the morning? I called you twice, but your mother said you were out.

W: Oh, hi, Jim. I went to the park to draw some pictures.

M: What do you like to draw?

W: I like to draw all kinds of things, such as flowers, trees, clouds, grass and people.

M: Is it difficult to learn drawing?

W: Yes, a little, but it is very interesting too.

M: Can you show me some of your pictures?

W: Yes, of course. How about coming to my home for dinner this Saturday?

M: All right. I will bring you a gift I bought in Australia.

W: Thank you. How was your trip to Australia?

M: It was wonderful.

(四) 听短文, 选择最佳答案。

你将听到一篇短文, 请根据短文内容, 选出每个问题的最佳答案。短文读两遍。

Hell, everyone. I want to tell you something about Liz Murray. She is an American woman. She was born in New York. Her family was poor when she was a child. Sometimes she had to live on the street with her sister. When she was 15, her mother died. She was really sad. She decided to change her life. She went to school, even though she was still homeless. She studied very hard and did well in all her subjects. Finally, she finished the four-year high school studies in two years. While she was studying at Harvard University, she gave a lot of public speeches about her own story. She wanted to encourage people like her to make their dreams come true. Her story was made into a film named Homeless to Harvard and she also wrote a book named Breaking Night about her life.

(五) 听短文, 填信息。

你将听到一篇短文, 请根据短文内容, 将所缺信息填入表格内对应的横线上, 每空一词。短文读两遍。

My name is Alice and I will be your guide today. Now let me tell you something about the science museum. On the first floor, we can see a lot of interesting science experiments. We will spend about forty minutes here. Then we will go to the second floor, the IT floor. There we can see how computers and mobile phones work. On the same floor we can also see the history of cars. On the third floor, we will learn something about space and the history of airplanes. On the top floor, we will see how the human body works and something about nature.
