One possible version:

Dear Tom,

I got your letter last week. Your problem is that your mother doesn't allow you to take part in after-school activities and you didn't pass the English exam. (I'm sorry that you have some difficulty communicating with your mother and you failed the English exam.) It's normal to have these problems. Why don't you sit down and talk with your mother? You should tell her that you are working hard, so you are tired and need to rest and relax. After-school activity is the best way to relax. It's good for the mind and the body. And it's a good choice to write her a letter or ask your father to help you. I think you should understand each other. Also, if you find it hard to remember English words, you'd better read more English stories and news. You could learn new words by using them. Besides, you should make more word cards to review them from time to time. What's more, you are expected to join the English club to practice English. I hope things will be better for you soon.

Yours,
Li Hua
