Dear Beatriz,

I hear that you'll come to our school as an exchange student (作为一名交换生) next Monday. I'm so happy! Our school is big and beautiful. Now I'm writing to tell you about our school rules.

First, we don't have a uniform, but clothes have to be clean and right for school. We have to wear shoes, not slippers (拖鞋). We can wear jeans (牛仔裤). We can wear hats too.

Second, students have to get to school by 8:00 a.m. We do some reading for 30 minutes. Classes begin at 8:30 a.m.

Third, we can take our computers to the classroom, but we can't take our phones to the classroom. We can't use watches in test rooms.

We have some strict rules, but the teachers here are very friendly. I'm sure you will have fun here!

See you soon.

Yours,

My name's Jane. I liked living in our little village in Chile. So when my dad and mom got new jobs in Canada, I was sad. All my friends were in the village, and I didn't want to leave them. But that summer, we left our old home and got on a plane to Ottawa.

How did I feel about that? I didn't like it at first. My new school was very big and I felt very small and lonely. I couldn't speak much English, so it was difficult to make new friends. I wanted to go back to our village.

But slowly I began to be happy. With my art teacher's help, I joined the school photography (摄影) club. I met many interesting people there. Yesterday we took photos in the park. And next Sunday we will show our photos in the library.

I love living here now. It's cold in the winter, but it's a beautiful place, and I can do lots of interesting things.

(▲) 57. Why did Jane feel sad?

- A. Because she couldn't take a plane.
- B. Because she didn't like her new school.

书面表达 One possible version:

Hi, Eric,

Everything went well yesterday. The party started at 4:00 p.m. Many of our classmates and all my cousins came to my party. I got lots of gifts from them. They sang Happy Birthday to me when I made a wish. My mother made a big birthday cake for me. After eating the cake, we played games. The dinner was also delicious. Everyone enjoyed the party. Time went quickly, and they went home at about 7:30 p.m. I was really happy.
