My name is Sam. I joined a club called "Passing Help" last month. Now let me tell you why I joined it.

One evening this May, on my way home my old car broke down (出故障). It was 25 miles away from my home. I wanted to get a ride, but there was no car. It was also hard to take a taxi. I decided to take a bus home. I went to a bus stop nearby.

After a while, a bus came, but it did not go to my town. The bus driver was a young woman. She was kind and she told me which bus I should take. I waited there for about thirty minutes, but no bus came. At last a car came to me and a woman came out of the car. She was just the bus driver.

"When I reached the bus station, I heard that the bus to your town couldn't come, so I returned here. I just can't leave you here," she said. "Get in my car and I will take you back to your home."

"It is a long way," I said.

"Come on, sir," she said. "Let's go."

On the way she told me a story. A few days ago, there wasn't gas (汽油) in her car. An old man drove her up to a gas station and then back to her car.

When we got to my home, I wanted to give her some money to thank her, but she didn't accept it. "I only want to help others and do something nice for somebody. Pass it along,"

43. What happened to Sam one evening this May?

Some people work a job all their lives and for them, it is only a way to make a living. But Carole and Russ Cassidy are lucky. They worked as special education teachers with interest and got lots of satisfaction. Now they are retired (已退休的) and luck is still with them.

"We just didn't want to be sitting and not doing anything," Carole said. "We tried several things, but they were not meant for us." Soon, they found the Princeton Public Library's Children's Storytime program and wanted to get involved. "We were lucky. They came and found us and asked to volunteer," Rebecca Marrs, Children's Librarian at the Princeton Public Library said. Marrs said the kids loved the retired special education teachers.

Marrs began the Children's Storytime program at the Princeton Public Library about eight years ago. The Book Babies program, for newborns to 3-year-olds, is held on Thursday and the Preschool program takes place (举行) on Friday.

The Cassidys and Marrs said that they didn't expect the children to sit still during the storytime. They understand that children can listen while playing. "I love being with kids. I enjoy watching kids playing together and using their imagination (想像力) most," Carole said.

"For example, I asked them why they made a robot with bricks (积木) and they explained it to me. Their imagination is so good."

47. In the Cassidys' eyes, the job of being a special education teacher is _____.

第二节 阅读表达

阅读下面的短文, 并根据文章后的要求答题。

Simon worked hard but still had a hard time. He was very sad. So he left everything behind and went into a forest. Simon met an old man in the forest. He shared his story with the old man.

“(77)Can you give me any reason for not giving up?” he asked the old man.

“Look,” the old man said, pointing at two plants. “Do you see that fern (蕨类植物) and bamboo (竹子) there?”

“Yes,” Simon answered.

“When I planted the fern and bamboo, I looked after them well. And the fern quickly grew up,” the old man went on. “But the bamboo didn’t grow at all. I did not give up and kept on watering it every day. In the fifth year, a small sprout (芽) came out. After about six months, the bamboo grew very tall.”

The old man said to Simon, “The little bamboo had been growing underground for the past four years to build a strong root system (根系) for its ground growth. If it hadn’t done this, it would not be as strong as it is now. So you know, when you work hard, in fact you are growing strong roots.”
