A

I am a Chinese student, last year, I went to England. I got to London at ten in the evening. I was tired and wanted to find a place to have a good rest, of course, I didn't know the way. I saw an English man in front of me. I went over to him and asked him to tell me the way. I spoke to the man in English. I spoke slowly but the man couldn't understand me. I asked the question again and again, at last he understood. He answered my question, but I couldn't understand him. The man and I looked at each other and laughed. Then he said something and I understood, "You'll learn English here, won't you?" he said.

46. The student studied English, but he couldn't use it well.
47. The student arrived in London very late that day.
48. The English man couldn't understand English.
49. The English man got very angry because the student couldn't understand him.
50. The English man thought that the student should learn English in England.

B

Fire can be very dangerous. We should be careful with it. This is what to do in a fire:

- Shout out. Shout as loudly as you can, because people may be asleep.
- Call 119. Don't try to put out the fire yourself. Tell 119 where you are and what is on fire.
- Keep down next to the floor. There is less smoke down there, so it's easier to breathe and see where you are going.
- Test the door. If the door is cool, open it carefully. If the door is hot, do not open it! Try to find a different way out.
- Get out. Do not stop to pick up anything. A fire can become very big in a few seconds!
- Don't use the lift. Always use the stairs. The lift may go wrong and keep you inside.
- Don't go back. Even if your pet is still inside, do not go back for it. Animals have a very good sense of smell. They often get away from buildings before people.

51. The passage tells us that we can _____ in a fire.
 A. use the lift B. try to put out the fire ourselves
 C. open the hot door and go out D. shout as loudly as possible

根据短文内容，用英语回答 91-95 题。(共 5 分，每小题 1 分)

I like fishing with my parents on weekends. My friends don't understand it. They always ask me, "How can you sit with your parents for hours like that?" When they ask me that question, I never say a word. I just smile.

Last Sunday, I went fishing with my parents on a lake near Nanjing. When we got there, I found a nice place to fish and sat down. My parents sat far away from me. I threw some bait into the river. But I didn't catch a fish. So I went to see my mom and dad. They didn't catch anything, either. My dad said, "Let's fish together. Maybe we'll be lucky later." I got my things and sat down with him and mom. We started to talk and I told them about the most interesting teacher at school. We talked and laughed for the rest of the day. Soon the sun started to set. We didn't catch any fish, but I had a great day. I now understood my parents better.

On the way home, I told my mom how much I wanted to have fish for dinner. "That's a good idea. We can buy one from the market." she said. We all looked at each other and laughed loudly. Suddenly, I realized how much I loved my parents.

- 91. What did the writer do last Sunday?
- 92. What did the writer tell his parents when fishing?
